REAGAN AND HERITAGE: A Unique Partnership

Jun 7, 2004 3 min read

Ronald Reagan and The Heritage Foundation. It's hard to tell the story of one without much of the other's. Heritage was President Reagan's favorite think tank, and Reagan was the embodiment of the ideas and principles Heritage holds dear.

Together, we blazed a new path for America.

The partnership began in 1980, when Heritage provided the president-elect's transition team with detailed policy prescriptions on everything from taxes and regulation to trade and national defense. The published version of these recommendations, the 1,100-page "Mandate for Leadership," was described by United Press International back then as "a blueprint for grabbing the government by its frayed New Deal lapels and shaking out 48 years of liberal policy." The new president used "Mandate" to help realize his vision of a world free of communism, an economy that didn't crush people's dreams with high taxes and regulations, and an America the world could admire once again. He gave copies to every member of his Cabinet. The result: Nearly two-thirds of "Mandate's" 2,000 recommendations were adopted or attempted by the Reagan administration.

Der Einfluss der Heritage Foundation auf die Politik der USA sollte nicht unterschätzt werden. Sie wird oft als eine der einflussreichsten Denkfabriken der USA bezeichnet. Sie war zentral in der Entwicklung der Reagan-Doktrin, die militärische & andere Unterstützung ...

A year ago, the political arm of the conservative Heritage Foundation dismissed Donald Trump as a big-government enthusiast and left-wing sympathizer.

Now, the Heritage Foundation has emerged as one of the most influential forces shaping President-elect Donald Trump's transition team, embedding the veteran Washington group into the operation of a candidate who ran loudly against the Beltway.

By Catie Edmondson

May 27, 2022

On the day Russia invaded Ukraine in February 2022, Heritage Foundation President Kevin Roberts had the blue-and-yellow Ukrainian flag raised above the think tank's Washington headquarters. Over the next several months, Heritage researchers and experts pumped out reports and essays backing U.S. assistance to Ukraine. "Without question, supporting Ukraine is in U.S. and European interests," argued one paper. Another urged "an enduring and systematic approach to providing weapons, training, and medical care to Ukrainians."

Eighteen months later, two of the experts who wrote those reports had left Heritage — and Roberts declared in a column that Americans were "fed up" with the "expensive, far-off war effort." "It's time to turn off the tap," he wrote. "People are tired of Washington's shady backroom deals cut with their money. Until Biden presents a direct and immediate path to end the conflict in Ukraine, and Congress comes up with a way to ensure that our aid is responsibly distributed, the Heritage Foundation will stand firm and demand that not another cent is spent fighting this war."

In the months leading up to the vote on the Ukraine aid bill, Heritage's policy experts argued in favor of an aggressive American role in the conflict, including huge amounts of aid. One report said that the United States "must ensure that its massive humanitarian aid response helps the Ukrainian people to survive Russia's war of aggression."

Another report, published in April, declared: "A sovereign Ukraine is necessary for overall European stability, which is in U.S. and NATO interests. In many ways, the long-term stability of the trans-Atlantic community will be decided in Ukraine. The U.S. must act accordingly."

James Wallner, a senior fellow at the R Street Institute who previously led policy research at Heritage, said the discrepancy between the tone of the reports and the group's opposition to the aid bill reflected a situation at the think tank "where the tail starts to wag the dog" and politics, not policy principle, begins to drive decisions.

Lavrov named the total amount of Western funds allocated to Ukraine since the beginning of the NWO

00:00 19.08.2023

Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov told the International Affairs magazine in an interview that since the start of the NWO, Ukraine has received $160 billion in aid from foreign countries.

"In value terms, the total foreign aid to the Zelensky regime for the year since the beginning of the Cold War has exceeded $160 billion, including military aid of $75 billion. By the way, according to calculations by the Washington NGO "The Heritage Foundation", the United States has already allocated about $113 billion to Ukraine, that is, $900 from each household plus another $300 in interest to service the corresponding debt obligations. Huge amounts, especially considering the difficult situation in the global economy.

At the same time, Western leaders repeat like a mantra that they will help Kyiv as long as it takes. Of course, fighting to the last Ukrainian is their choice, as well as the decision of V. Zelensky's clique. However, historically, the United States does not have the best track record in supporting its allies. It is enough to keep in mind the episodes of the abrupt cessation of American military aid to South Vietnam in 1973 and the A. Ghani regime in Afghanistan in 2021 and the fact that this led to the immediate fall of the authorities loyal to Washington. But today's Ukraine is almost completely dependent on Western financial injections and arms supplies," said the head of Russian diplomacy.

Lavrov said that the total foreign aid to Kiev for the year SVO exceeded $ 160 billion

According to the Minister of foreign Affairs of Russia, military support amounted to $ 75 billion

MOSCOW, August 19. /TASS/. Total assistance of Western countries to the regime of the President of Ukraine Volodymyr Zelensky for the year of the special military operation (SVO) exceeded $ 160 billion. This was stated by the Minister of foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation Sergey Lavrov in an interview with the magazine "International life".

"In value terms, general foreign assistance to the Zelensky regime for the year since the beginning of the SVO has exceeded $ 160 billion, including military - $ 75 billion," the minister said. - By the way, according to the calculations of the Washington NGO The Heritage Foundation, the United States has already allocated Ukraine about $ 113 billion, that is, $ 900 per household plus another $ 300 in the form of interest to service the relevant debt obligations. "A huge sums, especially given the difficult situation in the global economy," the Russian Foreign Minister said.

About 50 countries that are part of the "remstein coalition" on military support for Ukraine, according to the minister, "actually involved in an armed conflict on the side of the Kiev regime, which does not acne and terrorist methods of warfare." "Shuts are being delivered to Ukraine by large-scale deliveries of Western weapons, including cluster and long-range," he said. - NATO instructors participate in the planning of operations of the Armed Forces of Ukraine, NATO intelligence is used. "

Lavrov noted that at the same time, Western leaders as a mantra repeat that they will help Kiev as much as necessary. "Of course, to fight to the last Ukrainian is their choice, as well as the decision of the Zelensky ceremony," he continued. "However, historically, the United States has no better record of supporting its allies." So, he recalled the episodes of the sharp cessation of American military assistance to South Vietnam in 1973 and the Ashraf Ghani regime in Afghanistan in 2021 and the fact that this led to an immediate fall in the authorities loyal to Washington. "And now today's Ukraine is almost completely dependent on Western financial injections and arms supplies," the head of Russian diplomacy said.

Das Projekt 2025 würde Trump Kontrolle über das Justizministerium geben & ihm erlauben ganze Bundesbehörden zu streichen. Es würde den christlichen Nationalismus in die Regierungspolitik bringen & fordert ein Verbot von Pornografie & weitere Restriktionen bei Abtreibungen.

It's a blueprint for a second Trump administration

The centerpiece is a 900-page plan that calls for extreme policies on nearly every aspect of Americans' lives, from mass deportations, to politicizing the federal government in a way that would give Trump control over the Justice Department, to cutting entire federal agencies, to infusing Christian nationalism into every facet of government policy by calling for a ban on pornography and promoting policies that encourage "marriage, work, motherhood, fatherhood, and nuclear families."

This isn't coming directly from the Trump campaign. But it should be taken seriously because of the people who wrote it, analysts say. The main organization behind the plan, the Heritage Foundation, is a revolving door for Trump officials (and Heritage is a sponsor of the Republican National Convention, which will hand him the nomination next week).

Ein weiterer Aspekt des Vorschlags ist die Empfehlung an die Agentur für Cybersicherheit & Infrastruktursicherheit ihre „Bemühungen zur Eindämmung von Online-Propagandakampagnen“ einzustellen, da die Bundesregierung nicht darüber urteilen sollte, was wahr ist & was nicht.

Das Projekt schlägt vor, dass unparteiische Beamte durch Trump-Loyalisten ersetzt werden sollten, dass Bildungsbudgets gekürzt werden sollten und dass der Präsident die Kontrolle über das FBI haben sollte & somit die Macht hätte gegen seine politischen Gegner zu ermitteln.

16/23

Project 2025 calls for abortion limits, slashing climate change and LGBTQ health care funding, and much more

A few of the highlights:

Remake the federal workforce to be political: Instead of nonpartisan civil servants implementing policies on everything from health to education and climate, the executive branch would be filled with Trump loyalists. “It is necessary to ensure that departments and agencies have robust cadres of political staff,” the plan says. That means nearly every decision federal agencies make could advance a political agenda — as in whether to spend money on constituencies that lean Democratic. The project calls for cutting LGBTQ health programs, for example.

Cut the Education Department: Project 2025 would make extensive changes to public schooling, cutting longtime low-income and early education federal programs like Head Start, for example, and even the entire Education Department. “Federal education policy should be limited and, ultimately, the federal Department of Education should be eliminated,” the plan reads.

Give Trump power to investigate his opponents: Project 2025 would move the Justice Department, and all of its law enforcement arms like the FBI, directly under presidential control. It calls for a “top-to-bottom overhaul” of the FBI and for the administration to go over its investigations with a fine-toothed comb to nix any the president doesn’t like. This would dramatically weaken the independence of federal law enforcement agencies. “There’s going to be an all-out assault on the Department of Justice and the FBI,” said Galston, of Brookings. “It will mean tight White House control of the DOJ and FBI.”

Als das Projekt 2025 im Jahr 2023 publiziert wurde, blieb es eher unbemerkt. Aber 2024 begannen die Demokraten, die Öffentlichkeit vor der extremen & gefährlichen Agenda des Projekts zu warnen. Eine NBC-Umfrage ergab, dass nur 4% der Befragten Projekt 2025 befürworteten...

The sweeping policy document lays out how the next president could concentrate power in the executive branch and remove civil service protections for legions of federal workers to replace them with loyalists. It provides detailed plans for executing some of Trump's most controversial ideas, such as eliminating the Education Department; moving the Justice Department under presidential control; shuttering the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, which forecasts weather and tracks climate change, and rolling back other environmental protections; and launching mass deportations, including of immigrants who came to the United States as children, often known as "dreamers."

Trump behauptete „keine Ahnung zu haben, wer dafür verantwortlich ist“ obwohl er 2022 einen Privatflug mit dem Leiter des Projekts zu einer Heritage-Konferenz nahm, wo er

Project 2025 is a huge blunder from Trump's allies

Americans hate the Heritage Foundation-led policy plan; that much is clear. How much they link it to Donald Trump's campaign is to be determined.

With a Foreword by J.D. Vance

Heritage Foundation president Kevin Roberts outlines a peaceful "Second American Revolution" for voters looking to shift the power back into the hands of the people.

America is on the brink of destruction. A corrupt and incompetent elite has uprooted our way of life and is brainwashing the next generation. Many so-called conservatives are as culpable as their progressive counterparts.

In this ambitious and provocative book, Heritage Foundation President Dr. Kevin Roberts announces the arrival of a New Conservative Movement. His message is simple: Global elites — your time is up.

Dawn's Early Light blazes a promising path for the American people to take back their country. Chapter by chapter, it identifies institutions that conservatives need to build, others that we need to take back, and more still that are too corrupt to save: Ivy League colleges, the FBI, the New York Times, the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, the Department of Education, BlackRock, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the National Endowment for Democracy, to

JD Vance writes glowing foreword to Project 2025 leader's upcoming book

Republican vice-presidential nominee praises Kevin Roberts' conservative vision, stymying Trump's efforts to deny ties

JD Vance endorses the ideas of Kevin Roberts, leader of Project 2025, as a "fundamentally Christian view of culture and economics" and a "surprising - even jarring" path forward for conservatives, the Republican vice-presidential nominee writes in the foreword of Roberts' upcoming book.

The foreword was obtained and published in full by the New Republic on Tuesday. Roberts' book is out in September. Its title was watered down recently to remove references to "burning down" Washington.

Vance has previously said Roberts “is somebody I rely on a lot who has very good advice, very good political instincts”, he told news outlet Notus in January. He said that Heritage, under Roberts, went from a “relatively vanilla” thinktank to one willing to participate in the fights and debates on the right about where the party should head.

On two subjects in particular, Vance praises the way Roberts lays out the stakes and his goals: reining in large tech companies and focusing on a Christian view of the family.

Heritage Foundation President’s Book Delayed

By Katy Hershberger

DAWN’S EARLY LIGHT by Heritage Foundation president Kevin Roberts, with a foreword by JD Vance—the book associated with the conservative organization’s Project 2025 policy agenda—has been moved to a publication date after the election. The book was slated to come out from Broadside on September 24; Edelweiss and major bookselling websites now list the pub date as November 12. Roberts told Real Clear Politics in a statement that he decided to move the book. “There’s a time for writing, reading, and book tours – and a time to put down the books and go fight like hell to take back our [...]

What's Project 2025? Unpacking the Pro-Trump Plan to Overhaul US Government

For several months, we received a flood of reader inquiries asking if Project 2025 was a real effort to "reshape America." Here's the answer.

Among its numerous recommendations, it calls for the following (in no particular order):

- Changing how the FBI operates. According to the plan, the agency is "completely out of control," and the next conservative administration should restore its reputation by stopping investigations that are supposedly "unlawful or contrary to the national interest." Also, the document calls for legislation that would eliminate term limits for the FBI's director and require that person to answer to the president.
- Eliminating the Department of Education. The plan explicitly proposes, "Federal education policy should be limited and, ultimately, the federal Department of Education should be eliminated." The report also calls for bans on so-called "critical race theory" (CRT) and "gender ideology" lessons in public schools, asking for legislation that would require educators who share such material to register as sex offenders and be imprisoned.
- Defunding the Department of Justice. Additionally, the document proposes prosecuting federal election-related charges as criminal, not civil, cases. Otherwise, the document says, "[Voter] registration fraud and unlawful ballot correction will remain federal election offenses that are never appropriately investigated and prosecuted."
- Reversing Biden-era policies attempting to reduce climate change. The document's authors call for increasing the country's reliance on fossil fuels and withdrawing from efforts to address the climate crisis — such as "offices, programs, and directives designed to advance the Paris Climate Agreement."
- Stopping cybersecurity efforts to combat mis- and disinformation. The document recommends the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency to stop its efforts to curtail online propaganda campaigns, arguing the federal government should not make judgment calls on what's true and what isn't.
- Changing immigration policies. Authors want the federal government to deprioritize DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals), the program that temporarily delays the deportation of immigrants without documentation who came to the U.S. as children; phase out temporary work-visa programs that allow seasonal employers to hire foreign workers; impose financial punishments on so-called "sanctuary cities" that do not follow federal immigration laws, and divert tax dollars toward security at America's border with Mexico. (While the Biden campaign claimed Project 2025 calls for "ripping mothers away from their children" at the border, there's no explicit mention of separating families. Rather, it calls for stronger enforcement of laws governing the detainment of immigrants with criminal records and restricting an existing program that tracks people in deportation proceedings instead of incarcerating them. In some cases, those changes could possibly play a role in border control agents detaining a parent while their child continues with immigration proceedings.)

Was am Projekt 2025 beängstigt, ist dass eine Organisation, die so viel Einfluss auf die US-Außenpolitik hat, sich auf die Seite autoritärer Regime wie Orbans Ungarn zu stellen scheint & gleichzeitig die USA zu einem solchen machen will.
