Der Kreml liebt es, Russland als den letzten Verteidiger „traditioneller Werte“ gegenüber dem „degenerierten“ Westen darzustellen. In Wirklichkeit ist 🇷🇺 von Kriminalität, Gewalt, Korruption & Neonazi-Gruppen geplagt.

Activists Accuse Russian Authorities Of Turning A Blind Eye To Domestic Violence

Moscow protesters against the 2017 partial decriminalization of domestic violence hold a placard reading: "Violence is not our tradition!"

Earlier this month, a pregnant woman in Makhachkala, the capital of Russia's North Caucasus region of Daghestan, complained to be police about her abusive husband. She told them he beat her, stole her money, and threatened to kill her.

"The officers responded by saying they don't come between a husband and his wife," the woman told RFE/RL.*

Russia parliament votes 380-3 to decriminalize domestic violence

DOUG STANGLIN | USATODAY

Russia's parliament voted 380-3 on Friday to decriminalize domestic violence in cases where it does not cause "substantial bodily harm" and does not occur more than once a year.

The move, which eliminates criminal liability in such cases, makes a violation punishable by a fine of roughly $500, or a 15-day arrest, provided there is no repeat within 12 months.

The bill now goes to the rubber-stamp upper chamber, where no opposition is expected. It then must be signed by President Vladimir Putin, who has signaled his support.

Three years after the 30,000-euro ($39,000) watch was first spotted on Kirill's wrist, sparking an uproar, the Russian Orthodox Church is once again under fire for airbrushing the watch from a 2009 picture.

The church has apologized profusely for the "foolish mistake" of its website's photo editor, who erased the Swiss watch but overlooked its reflection on a polished table top.
