In today's #vatnik soup I'll be introducing a Russian money launderer, convicted criminal and Prigozhin's personal propagandist, Oksana Vovk, also known as Mira Terada.

While living in the US, Oksana was pled guilty to money laundering and she was convicted to 30 months behind bars. She did plea in order to avoid a harsher conviction for drug trafficking.

US court sentences Russian national Mira Terada to 30 months behind bars

The Russian national pled guilty to money laundering, avoiding a more serious conviction for drug trafficking

WASHINGTON, February 21. /TASS/. A US federal court in Alexandria, Virginia has sentenced Russian national Mira Terada to 30 months behind bars on charges of money laundering. Judge Claude Hilton handed down the corresponding verdict during a court session on Friday, TASS informs.

The prosecution asked to sentence the Russian national to 46 months in prison; however, the judge chose to take into account the six months she had spent at a Finnish jail. Thus, the woman was sentenced to 30 months behind bars.

Terada's lawyer Jeffrey Zimmerman said that the Russian national might leave the US prison on parole after 17 months in custody. After that, she will be deported to Russia.

On December 15, 2018, Finland's Border Guard authority detained Mira Terada (Oksana Vovk before 2017), a Russian national born in 1988 who was on her way from St. Petersburg to Spain with a stopover at Helsinki Vantaa Airport. The Finnish authorities notified the Russian side about the incident

Vovk was captured at Helsinki-Vantaa airport in Finland in 2018, and she was extradited into the US in 2019. After being released from prison, Vovk returned to Russia in 2021 where she started her new career as a state propagandist.

Man Pleads Guilty to Drug Trafficking and Money Laundering Scheme

ALEXANDRIA, Va. – A Texas man pleaded guilty today to conspiracy to distribute up to 15 kilograms of cocaine and conspiracy to commit money laundering.

According to court documents, between June 2014 and November 2016, Naleth Vongsengchanh, 50, of Houston, engaged in a conspiracy to traffic quantities of cocaine to Virginia for redistribution and to launder the proceeds. In the beginning of the scheme, Vongsengchanh resided in the Virginia region and sold cocaine locally before relocating to Houston.

Beginning in January 2015, Vongsengchanh began providing other individuals with kilogram quantities of cocaine to be transported from Texas to Virginia by car. Furthermore, Vongsengchanh and his spouse at the time, Oksana Vovk, utilized numerous bank accounts to launder the drug proceeds stemming from the cocaine trafficking. One of the utilized accounts was for an illegitimate business known as Stylish Traveler LLC through which Vongsengchanh and Vovk laundered over $78,000. In addition to the laundering of the proceeds, Vongsengchanh received payment for cocaine via other individuals transporting bulk cash currency for the former couple from the Virginia region to Texas.

Vongsengchanh is a career offender with a lengthy criminal history that includes felony convictions for murder in the second degree, voluntary manslaughter, assault with a dangerous weapon, aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, and two convictions for manufacturing, sale, and possession of a controlled substance.

Vongsengchanh pleaded guilty to conspiracy to distribute five kilograms or more of cocaine and conspiracy to commit money laundering, and faces a mandatory minimum of 10 years in prison, and a maximum term of life in prison when sentenced on April 17. Actual sentences for federal crimes are typically less than the maximum penalties. A federal district court judge will determine any sentence after taking into account the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

First, she organized a theatrical show where she posted a pile of letters of complaints about her stay in Finland. She claimed that Finland extradited her illegally to the US "to be tortured", she was put in a male prison (she was not), ...

... her medication was confiscated (they were not) and she wouldn't receive an important surgery while in Finland (she never had the surgery in Russia, either). She also declared that she was beat up by eight guards while naked in the US.

She stated that she'd been tortured for a whole year in a windowless cell, and that the guards played gun sounds 24/7 to "break her mind".

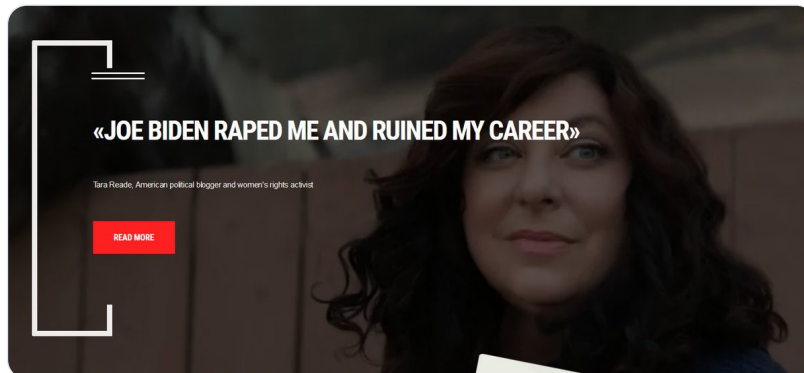

It almost sounds like they want to make the US prison system sound worse than the Russian one...

After returning to Russia, she was picked up by no other than Yevgeny Prigozhin to run a sham organization called "Foundation to Battle Injustice". At their front page, the first news is Tara Reade's claim that Joe Biden raped her.

7/13

So yeah, it's that kind of an organization. The site also states that Vovk was "wrongfully convicted", even though there was a mountain of evidence for the conviction and she actually plead guilty to it.

MIRA TERADA

Was wrongfully convicted and imprisoned for 2,5 years in the United States

Finnish propagandist Janus Putkonen interviewed Oksana (and vice versa) in St. Petersburg in Jun, 2022. In this interview, Vovk repeated her accusations towards Finnish and US authorities, and said that she's running a foundation "for battling injustice in the world".

"Suomi uhri vai rikoskumppani?" – Laittomasta pidätyksestä ja luovutuksesta USA:han kanteen Suomea vastaan nostanut Mira Terada UVM-Lehdelle

"Koin laittomuuksia, kidutusta ja väkivaltaa", sanoi karmeasta kohtelustaan Suomessa ja Yhdysvalloissa tunnetuksi tullut Mira Terada UVM-Lehden päätoimittaja Janus Putkoselle Pietarissa. Hän kertoi kokemuksensa vankeudestaan Yhdysvalloissa, jonne luovutuksesta Teradan lentokentällä pidättänyt Suomi on nyt kohdannut oikeuskanteen.

Ihmisoikeusaktivisti Mira Terada ja päätoimittaja Janus Putkonen tapasivat Pietarissa.

Vuonna 2018 Venäjän kansalainen, Mira Terada, otettiin laittomasti kiinni Suomen lentokentällä neutraalilla alueella syytettynä salaliitosta laittomissa rahakaupoissa. Nykyisin hän toimii sorron vastaisen taistelun säätöjohtajana. Hän kertoi tulemisestaan pidätetyksi Suomessa:

She had her own talk show, "Limits of Freedom" where he interviewed a Finnish pro-Putinist and MP, Ano Turtiainen. During the show, Mr Turtiainen claimed that Finland is "led from the outside" but that "real Finnish people" will not bend to the will of the EU and NATO.

10/13

He also stated that these "real Finnish" people want to keep up the old spirit of Finlandization and Russia-appeasing.

On 20, Jan, 2023, she organized an event called "International press forum Journalists under the scope: ...

11/13

... attacks on freedom of speech and reprisals against reporters" In this propaganda event she read propaganda statements from a paper and interviewed various disinformation and propaganda "journalists" such as Sonja van den Ende, from the West.

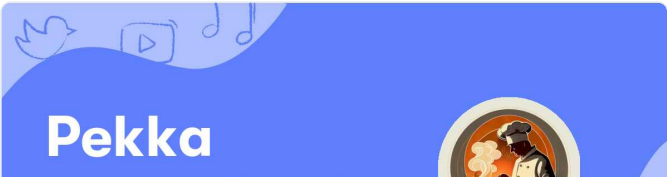

12/13

She also stated that the Grayzone blogger Max Blumenthal was persecuted in the US. As most of you know, the modus operandi of Prigozhin is to hire ex-convicts to do his dirty deeds & this is exactly what she did with Vovk. I'm sure we'll be seeing more of her BS in the future. 13/13
