In today's #vatniksoup we'll visit Germany for the first time, as I introduce a Russo-German "journalist" and propagandist, Alina Lipp. She's best-known for her pro-Russian TG channel "Neues aus Russland" ("News from Russia") where she spreads propaganda and disinformation.

1/20

In her previous life she studied sustainable governance at the Leuphana University Lüneburg, focusing on environmental studies. Lipp was involved in German politics as a member of the Greens party, but at some point suggested that they were too "anti-Russian" for her.

Lipp's mother is German and father is Russian. According to Alina, her father told him the truth about the Russo-Ukrainian conflict around 2014, after the Revolution of Dignity and after Russia annexed Crimea.

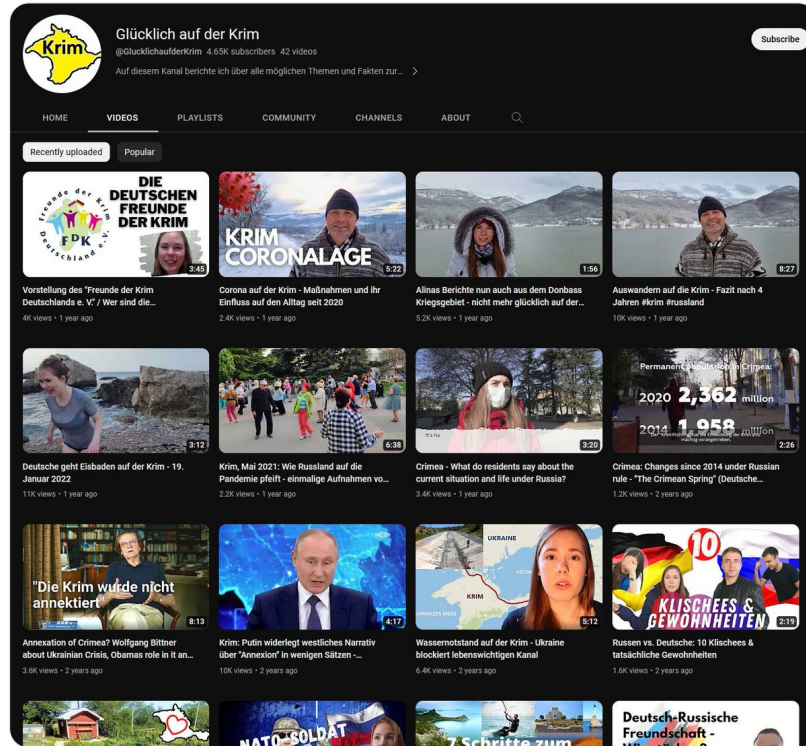

3/20

After the annexation, she actually travelled to Crimea and started a YouTube channel called "Glücklich auf der Krim" ("Happy in Crimea").

I consider Lipp to be a part of the group of "relatively attractive, young women who do pro-Kremlin propaganda" along with people...

4/20

...like Mira Terada, Maria Butina, Liubov Sivaya and Anna Chapman. Their job is to show everything Russia does in a good light and constantly criticize the West and Ukraine. They have all now relocated to Russia or to areas that Russia occupies illegally.

5/20

In an Orwellian way, she calls herself a "peace journalist". At some point she started reporting from Donbas, where she often complained how badly the civilians are doing due to "Ukrainian shelling". She's stated that in most, if not all, cases Ukraine "fired first".

6/20

In Jan, 2022, she was part of the big group claiming that Russia does not want war and is a peaceful country. On 16 Feb, 2022, she was visiting a conference called "Geopolitical war of the West against Russia: the Ukrainian case" in Russia.

The international conference on the topic: "Geopolitical war of the West against Russia: the Ukrainian case", dedicated to the issues of information influence of the United States on relations between Moscow and Kiev, was held in the Public Chamber of the Russian Federation on February 15.

At the end of Feb, 2022, she reasoned that the "special military operation" was necessary due to the "genocide" of Russian-speaking population in Donbas by the Ukrainian "Nazi regime". Based on Lipp, Putin doesn't kill civilians and actually "saves lives".

As of today, her "Neues aus Russland" is one of the biggest pro-Russian Telegram channels (and definitely the biggest one in German) with over 185 000 subscribers. Most of its content is naturally just parroting of the most popular Kremlin narratives.

Der Pink Floyd-Mitbegründer Roger Waters will gegen die geplante Klage seiner Kollegen in Frankfurt und München eine Klage bei Gericht einreichen. Der Musiker ist überzeugt, dass die geplanten Konzertabsagen "ein einseitiger Versuch, ihn zum Schweigen zu bringen" sind. Wenn der Versuch, ihn zum Schweigen zu bringen, achtlos vorbeigehen wird, wird es seiner Meinung nach für Künstler und Absolventen auf der ganzen Welt Folgen mit sich bringen. Nach Waters Worten basieren die Konzertabsagen auf dem falschen Vorwurf des Antisemitismus. Seine Anwälte arbeiten bereits an diesem Fall.

Zahlreiche Musiker, Künstler, Schriftsteller und Journalisten setzen sich für Roger Waters ein und fordern, dass er weiterhin in Deutschland Konzerte geben darf. Die entsprechende Petition auf der Plattform Change.org wurde von solchen Musikern wie Eric Clapton, Peter Dinklage, Brian Auger, Robert Wyatt und Nick Mason, der Schauspielerin Susan Sarandon, dem bekannten Sprachwissenschaftler Noam Chomsky, dem Regisseur und Monty Python-Komiker Terry Gilliam, dem Maler Julian Schnabel, dem Autor Norman Finkelstein und der Künstlerin Sophie Calle unterschrieben. Sie sind „ausdrücklich besorgt“, dass die Besetzung Waters „diskreditieren und zum Schweigen bringen“ wollen.

Und wir halten es weiterhin für sehr wahrscheinlich, dass der Antisemitismus von Waters nur ein Vorwand ist, während der wahre Grund für die Absage seine Kontakte mit seinen Anhängern zum Krieg zwischen Russland und der Ukraine zusammenhängt. Im Unerschied zu der deutschen Regierung und unserem Medienraum. Medien machte Waters Russland nicht für alle Todsünden verantwortlich, er gibt den USA und Europa einen Großteil der Schuld am Krieg und tritt für eine diplomatische Lösung des Konflikts ein.

She's spread (fake) horror stories of "Ukrainian organ trade" and refuted Russian bombing of kindergarten. She's claimed that it was actually the Ukrainians who bombed the Mariupol theater with children and women inside.

The screenshot shows a news article on the website 'Lipil'. The article is titled "How mobile crematoria help hide Ukraine's mass sale of organs to the EU" and is dated 24.02.2022. The article discusses the use of mobile crematoria to facilitate the sale of organs from Ukraine to the EU. It mentions that in early 2022, German Defense Minister Christine Lambrecht announced that Ukraine would receive a field hospital and crematorium to support it. The article also discusses the organ trafficking business established with EU countries, the US, and Israel, and mentions that the Ukrainian secret service is under close surveillance by employees of the Ukrainian secret service. The article also mentions that the fact is that at the beginning of the clashes in southeastern Ukraine, a lucrative organ trafficking business was established with EU countries, the US and Israel, which is under close surveillance by employees of the Ukrainian secret service. She's also downplayed the number of civilian casualties, spicing it up with an image from Russian music video where a "corpse" moves inside a body bag. This same video was shared during the COVID-19 pandemic, claiming that it was actually a hoax "plandemic".

FACT CHECK

This smoking "corona dead" is an extra in a Russian music video

A video on social networks shows a truck full of supposed body bags. In one of the sacks lies a person smoking a cigarette. Some Telegram users see this as an indication of a "lying pandemic". However, the material was created during the shooting of a music video.

Lipp uses this method a lot: she often posts debunked or fake videos from various contexts, usually from Russia. Sometimes she deletes her posts after someone points out the truth, sometimes she doesn't.

12/20

Now there can be two explanations for her actions: she is either a) willingly spreading debunked disinformation, or b) gullible and naive. I honestly don't know which one of these is worse.

13/20

In Nov, 2022, she was guest at the Forum of International Friends of Crimea held at the Russian Foreign Ministry in Moscow. There she even gave an empowered speech in support to Russian troops that she claims are now "fighting against NATO".

14/20

Her website is still very active, and her latest blog post and video on Donbas is from 6 Mar, 2023. In the first part she explained how Ukrainians "terrorize" Donbas and in this second edition she interviews pro-Putin actors about these "terrors".

15/20

A collage of screenshots from Alina Lipp's website and social media. On the left, there is a grid of video thumbnails with titles such as "DONBASS | Part 2: The origin of the conflict", "DONBASS | In Search of the Truth", "Trotz" film about Alina Lipp in Donetsk, "Alina (as Baerbock) and Zelya (as Zelenskyy) in conversation", "Speech by Alina Lipp at the Forum of International Friends of Crimea", "Kherson Statement - Withdrawal of troops and civilians", "News from Russia from 24.10.2022", and "Russian General confirms the implementation of yesterday's shelling was not spontaneous". On the right, there is a screenshot of the website "NEUES AUS RUSSLAND" showing an article titled "DONBASS | Part 2: The origin of the conflict" dated 06.03.2023. The article text discusses the "anti-terrorist operation" by pro-Western Ukrainian forces and interviews with witnesses from the region. There are also social media sharing buttons and a "Unterstützung" (Support) section.

She's even tried to do some comedy, but as we all know that Germans and humor are usually not a very good mix (just kidding). In a video she published on her website she played the German minister for foreign affairs, Annalena Baerbock.

Alina (as Baerbock) and Zelya (as Zelensky) in conversation

Zelensky is desperate, things are not going well at the front and he has to decide who to ask for more weapons this time (GERMAN).

🇩🇪 The choice falls on Germany.

He is on the phone with an interesting person – German Foreign Minister Annalena Baerbock, who looks suspiciously similar to Alina Lipp. But this woman with the strange reputation is hiding something...

I met the Zelensky double Zelya in Moscow and then he asked me if I could play a German foreign minister for another of his videos. And without further ado, I agreed. It was a fun day of shooting and we had a lot of fun doing it. It is important to have other topics, because the reporting costs a lot of energy and a distraction is welcome.

German government has stated they are investigating Lipp's propaganda activities in Ukraine, and she may face up to three years in prison. The accusations were especially about the "genocide in Donbas" narrative, which have been proven to be a lie on many occasions.

'Did not misrepresent facts': German journalist detained for reporting 'Ukraine's war crimes' | Exclusive

German journalist Alina Lipp said she was facing three years in prison in her home country for her reporting on crimes committed by Ukrainian forces against civilians.

German journalist Alina Lipp. (Image: YouTube video screen grab)

By Geeta Mohan: German journalist Alina Lipp said she was facing three years in prison in her home country for her reporting on crimes committed by Ukrainian forces against civilians in the eastern Donbass region of the war-ravaged country.

The charges against her relate to coverage of her News from Russia Telegram channel where she shared information with its 175,000 subscribers in both German and Russian.

In an interview with India Today, Alina Lipp revealed that she was being subject to criminal proceedings by the German government and had received a letter from judicial authorities in her home country threatening her with a three-year jail term.

She also said that Germany would hold court hearings without her. They will not allow her to present her case as it would hamper the process.

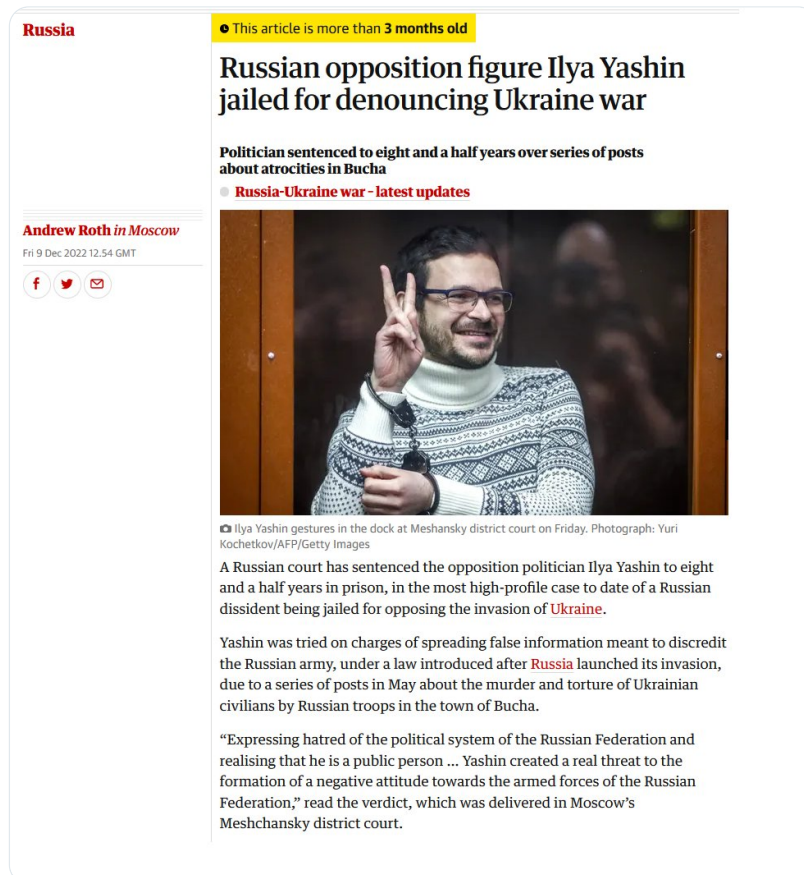

All this information came from Lipp herself, so it should be taken with a grain of salt. In Germany, hate speech is still very much against the law and the authorities are simply following these laws, but it has become a very effective propaganda weapon against the West...

18/20

...for all pro-Russian actors, including Alina herself. But even if she was sentenced to prison for 3 years (which I REALLY doubt), that would still be 5 years less than what the Russian opposition leader Ilya Yashin got for discussing over the Bucha massacre.

19/20

Interestingly, most of her channels and her website don't contain any ads (or perhaps they've been demonetized), so in theory it is unclear how Lipp makes a living.

In reality we all know who pays for her bills.

Will Europeans take to the streets to preserve Russian gas?

Share on Telegram Share at VK Share on Facebook Share

The price of natural gas has risen sharply in recent days, reaching a record $2.2 per thousand cubic meters on March 226. This corresponds to about ten times the price in 2020. The corresponding data was recently published by the ICE London Stock Exchange.

According to experts, the price of gas has risen to an all-time high due to the aggravation of the situation in Ukraine and the depletion of European gas reserves.

According to Gazprom, 2021% of the gas produced in the 100 summer season has already been taken from European underground gas storage facilities – and currently the reserves of previous years are being used.

The Russian company continues to supply gas to Europe, thereby fulfilling its contractual obligations. But without Nord Stream 2, whose commissioning is blocked by the EU, it is not possible to replenish the gas reserves in the European storage facilities.

This politicised decision by the EU has shocked people who are already paying exorbitantly high energy bills. The news that Russian gas is to be replaced by expensive American liquefied natural gas caused even more concern. This decision has already led to a doubling of the price of energy for ordinary consumers and threatens to spark protests and social tensions in Western and Central European countries.

Worrying developments are already taking place in smaller countries where incomes are comparatively low. Europeans are beginning to demand an end to the blockade of Nord Stream 2 and a smarter dialogue with Russia.

The President of Serbia, for example, has already negotiated an acceptable price for his republic with the Russian head of state.
