

Pekka Kallioniemi @P_Kallioniemi

Apr 8 · 25 tweets · P_Kallioniemi/status/1644616099156066305

In today's #vatniksoup, I'll introduce a Russian politician and economist, Sergey Glazyev. He's best-known for his long career in Russian politics, and for his leaked phone calls in regard to Russian meddling in Ukraine before, during and after the Revolution of Dignity.

1/24

Sergey was born in Zaporizhzhia, in the Ukrainian SSR. His father was Russian & mother Ukrainian. After getting his doctorate from the Moscow State University, he entered government service becoming the First Deputy Minister of External Economic Relations under Yegor Gaidar.

2/24

Gaidar was best-known for his economic reform known as "shock therapy" - with the help of US economists, Gaidar and his posse tried to transform the Soviet system into free market capitalism overnight. It was a disaster for everyone except the oligarchs and organized crime.

3/24

Glazyev was elected to State Duma in 1993, collaborating with now-eunuch Dmitry Rogozin. He was also involved in the short-lived nationalist party, the Congress of Russian Communities, whose main function was to work as a fake opposition for Boris Yeltsin.

4/24

He also ran for President in 2004, gaining 4,1% of the total vote. In 2007, Sergey announced that he'd leave Russian politics, arguing that Putin's authoritarianism had killed all opposition in the country, only to come back after Putin appointed him as a presidential aide.

5/24

In Mar, 2014 Sergey stated that the "entire crisis in Ukraine was orchestrated, provoked, and financed by American institutions in cooperation with their European partners," continuing that these institutions financed and trained the Ukrainian neo-Nazi movement.

6/24

THE NATIONAL INTEREST

Submissions | Subscribe | Advertising | Contact | About | Search

Magazine | Blogs | Military | Economics | Technology | Regions

March 24, 2014 | Topic: Politics | Region: Russia, Ukraine

An Interview with Sergey Glazyev

TNI speaks to Putin's famously blunt adviser.

by Sergey Glazyev

The National Interest's publisher, Dimitri K. Simes, recently interviewed Sergey Glazyev, who has a reputation for forthright and blunt speaking and is a close adviser to Russian president Vladimir Putin. Glazyev's portfolio has included Ukraine and he is an expert in economics. In 2004 he ran for President of Russia. He was placed on the sanctions list by President Obama this March. The interview has been translated from Russian by Milena Tercheva.

A year before, in 2013, he called Ukraine's collective will to integrate into the EU as a "some kind of sick self-delusion". He called former President of Ukraine, Petro Poroshenko, a Nazi, stating that he was elected illegitimately.

As is tradition in Russia,...

7/24

BBC Sign in Home News Sport Reel Worklife Travel

NEWS

Home | War in Ukraine | Climate | Video | World | UK | Business | Tech | Science | Stories

World | Africa | Asia | Australia | Europe | Latin America | Middle East | US & Canada

Ukraine: Putin aide brands Poroshenko 'Nazi' ahead of EU deal

© 27 June 2014

| Adviser to Vladimir Putin Sergei Glaziev says Ukrainian President Petro Poroshenko is a Nazi

A senior adviser to Russian President Vladimir Putin has lashed out at Ukraine's president ahead of the signing of a controversial EU deal.

Sergei Glaziev said Petro Poroshenko was a "Nazi" and his endorsement of the deal was "illegitimate".

Mr Poroshenko is expected to sign the full association agreement at the EU summit in Brussels later.

A shaky ceasefire in eastern Ukraine, where pro-Russian rebels are fighting government forces, is also due to end.

The pact - which would bind Ukraine more closely to the West both economically and politically - is at the heart of the crisis in the country and is strongly opposed by Russia.

Mr Poroshenko's predecessor Viktor Yanukovich refused to sign the deal and protests led to his overthrow.

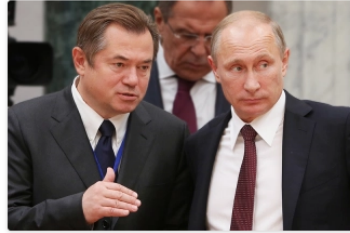

After this Russia annexed Ukraine's Crimea region and pro-Russia separatists in eastern regions declared independence, claiming that extremists had taken power in Kiev.

In another development early on Friday, rebels released four international observers captured more than a month ago.

Alexander Borodai, head of the self-styled Donetsk People's Republic, said the members of the Vienna-based Organisation for the Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) had been freed as a goodwill gesture.

..he said that "this Nazi government is bombing the largest region in Ukraine [referring to Donbas]". In Aug 2017, he claimed that Ukraine is "occupied territory", with only "servicemen of American aggressors" who receive instructions and funding from the American embassy.

8/24

Sergei Glazyev with Vladimir Putin (-DONI News)

Malorossia and Novorossia need to return to Russia - Putin's Adviser /

Translated by Inessa Sinchougova

(Rusvesna) / Fort Russ / August 15, 2017

/ The historical lands of Malorossia and Novorossia need to be returned to Russia, otherwise these territories, occupied by pro-American puppets, will constantly threaten Russia's security.

This was stated by Putin's adviser Sergei Glazyev. "The people never recognized in any form the current Ukrainian Nazism. Thanks to the wise decision of our president, the Crimea returned bloodlessly, legitimately, with triumph. But, unfortunately, we could not do justice to the rest of the Russian world ... I want to say that until we return Little Russia and Novorossia to Russia, we will live with this decaying wound - the captured part of the Russian world where millions of people are trained in anti-Russian hysteria. We will always be under the threat of security and escalation of this hybrid war on the front that is most vulnerable to us," he said during the international patriotic camp-forum Donuzlav-2017. "Today Ukraine is an occupied territory. There is no legitimate power, there is no one to talk to, there are no people who can take responsibility for the implementation of political agreements. There are only servicemen of American aggressors who receive instructions from the American embassy, from there they receive funding and, in fact, serve American interests in Ukraine," the presidential adviser said. In addition, he stressed that we should not hope for the collapse of the current Kiev regime. "The specifics of the American occupation today is its commercial self-sufficiency. Therefore, one can not hope that this regime will collapse by itself, because material resources will be exhausted," Glazyev summed up.

But this is all basic level State Duma member/Kremlin propagandist rhetoric, what makes Glazyev different from others? In 2016 Ukrainian authorities published phone calls intercepted by the SBU between Glazyev and people who were directly involved in the pro-Russian...

9/24

EUROMAIDAN PRESS

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM UKRAINE

UKRAINE INTERNATIONAL RUSSIAN AGGRESSION MORE ABOUT US

Home » Russian Aggression » Hybrid War »

Glazyev tapes, continued: new details of Russian occupation of Crimea and attempts to dismember Ukraine

Konstantin Zatulin (left) and Sergey Glazyev (right) are two Russian officials who were closely involved with the Russian occupation of Crimea and pro-Russian protests in 2014, according to Ukrainian prosecutors. Collage: Euromaidan Press

About the Source
Alya Shandra

Alya Shandra is the editor-in-chief at Euromaidan Press. Before joining Euromaidan Press, she participated in environmental research and education projects. Alya can be contacted at alya.shandra \(a\) gmail.com, on twitter @AlyaShandra, or FB

...demonstrations in various cities around Ukraine, including Odessa and Kharkiv in 2014. As the Surkov leaks of 2016 provided evidence for the Russian meddling in the Donbas in 2014 and after, the Glazyev tapes proved it in various other areas.

10/24

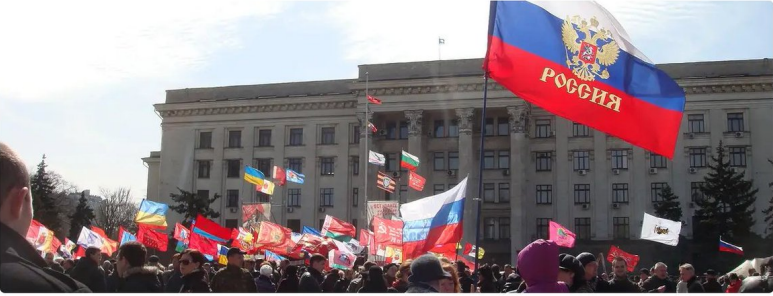

OCCASIONAL PAPERS

The Surkov Leaks: The Inner Workings of Russia's Hybrid War in Ukraine

Alya Shandra and Robert Seely
16 July 2019 Long Read

SHARE

 DOWNLOAD PDF \(2MB\)

An analysis of leaked emails from the Kremlin provides fresh insights on Russia's activities in Ukraine.

Main Image Credit / Russia encouraged pro-Russian demonstrations throughout Ukraine. Courtesy of Ukrainian Security Service

Based on these leaks, Russia was planning to invade the so-called Novorossiia, consisting of large Ukrainian regions in the east and in the south of Ukraine, thus creating a land bridge to Crimea.

11/24

In the phone calls, Glazyev instructed the pro-Russian agents on how to increase the impact of the riots and how to eventually occupy administration buildings. He also instructed these agents on receiving funding for the insurrections.

12/24

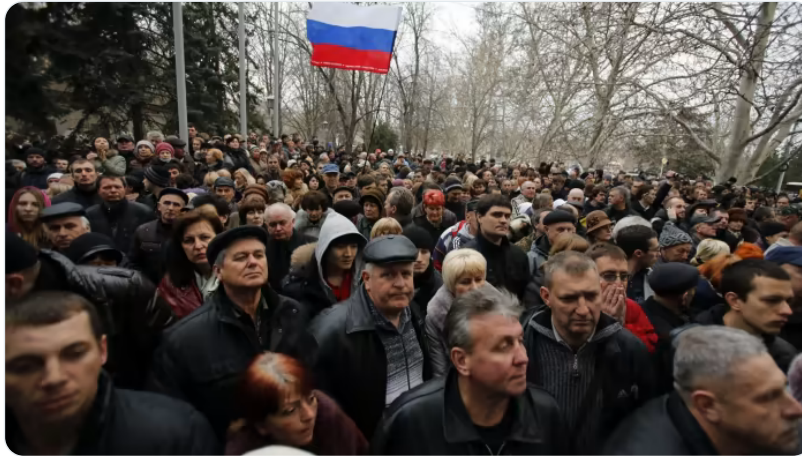

From his phone call to "Prime Minister of Crimea", Sergey Aksyonov, we get a general idea how the process goes: throw out the "Banderovtsy" (Neo-Nazis) from the building council, gather executive authority and appeal Mr Putin for assistance against the "evil Nazis".

13/24

In the calls he also states that the riots must look as if they were grassroots with local residents as the main actors despite the funding coming from Russia. The leaks also offer damning evidence against Glazyev on so called 2014 Odessa clashes, in which 46 pro-Russian...

14/24

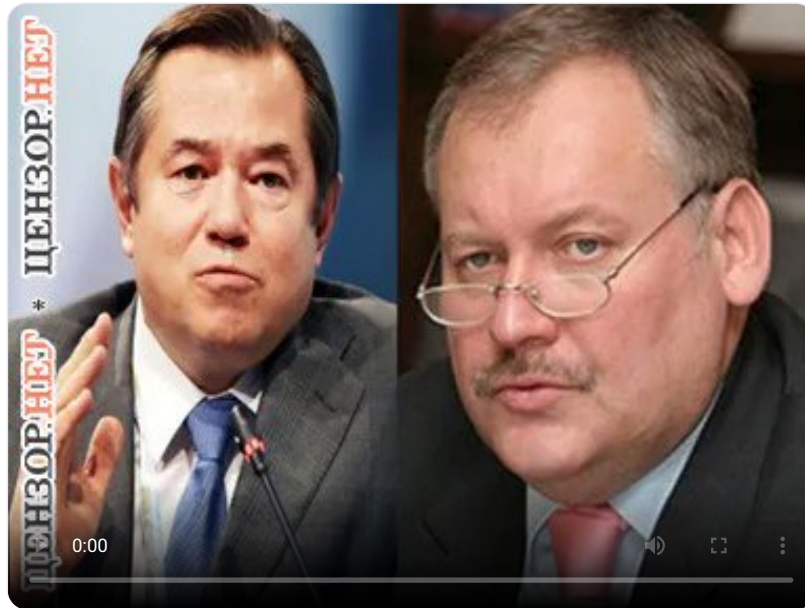

...and 2 pro-Ukrainian people died, and which pro-Russian propagandists like Aaron Maté have occasionally used as an evidence against "Ukrainian neo-Nazis". A call between State Duma member Konstantin Zatulin and Glazyev proved that Russia funded the riots both in ...

15/24

...Kharkiv and in Odessa. They also talk about Crimea, complaining how some pro-Russian politicians didn't show up to a demonstration. Glazyev commented on the situation as follows: "Holy fuck. We fed them for so long". Glazyev also funded the Cossacks, a pro-Russian ...

16/24

...militant group for partaking the riots in Crimea. Glazyev also talked about a "woman who will be buried soon." She had died during the riots, and he wanted to turn her funeral into a propaganda piece: "This has to all be done properly in the propaganda sense. So they...

17/24

..will be heroes and so on. So that people would be there.This event is very important."In one of the phone calls,Glazyev also referred to a certain "Slava",extremely likely referring to Vladislav Surkov who developed the strategic plan for the annexation of Crimea & Donbas.18/24

In another call between Glazyev and Zatulin, they plan to create a pro-Russian Automaidan - a motorized response to the Ukrainian Automaidan movement. For this, they asked "the Surgeon", the founder of the biker club "Night Wolves" for assistance. Sergey also calls ...

19/24

.."the Surgeon" to help them with Zaporizhzhia:" The key city which needs support in Zaporizhzhia. Because without Zaporizhzhia, Crimea won't survive, it's not viable." Under Ukrainian control, Crimea got its energy and water from the mainland.

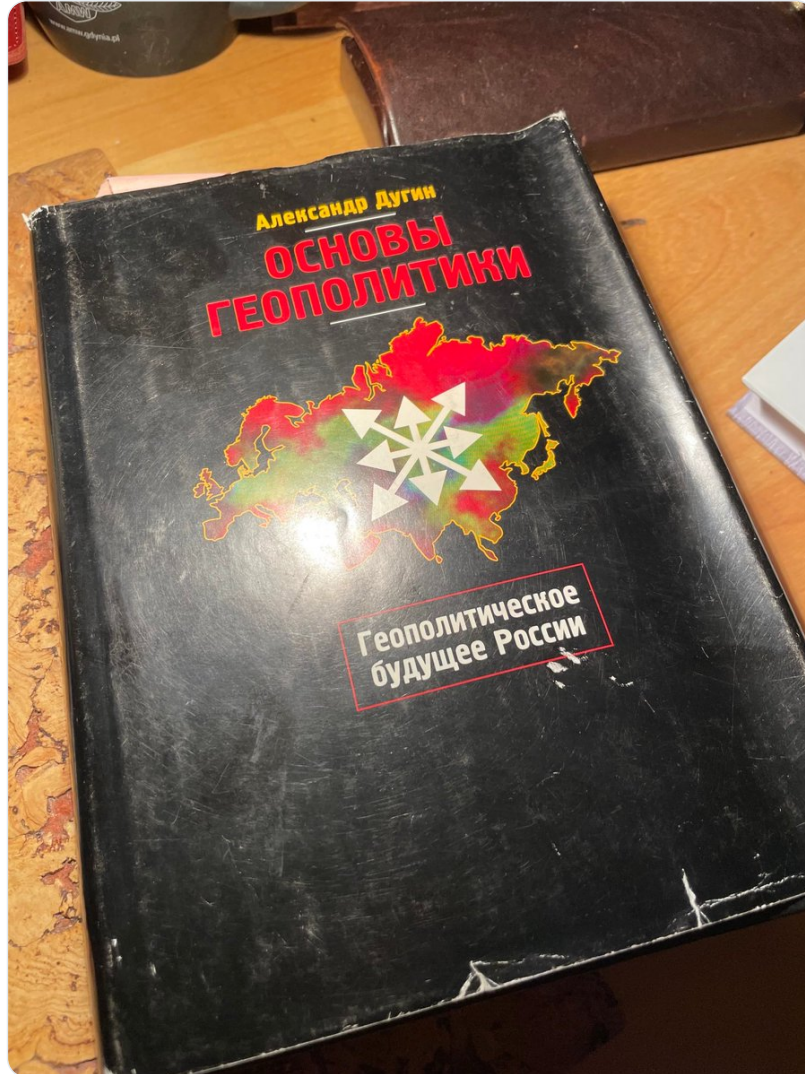

20/24

The plan can of course be originated way back to the end of the 90's, when Alexander Dugin laid the plans in his 1997 book Foundations of Geopolitics.

Recently Glazyev has become a prominent figure again, pushing for the BRICS collaboration and the abandonment of the USD.

22/24

He's also commented on the collapse of the ruble, basically saying that the Central Bank of Russia knows what they're doing. But in regard to economic issues, how much trust should one put on a guy who was one of the leaders of the Russian "shock therapy" in the early...

23/24

The screenshot shows the website 'The Cradle' with a navigation bar including 'Home', 'Analysis', 'Investigations', 'Interviews', 'News', and 'Columns'. Below the navigation bar, there are several news thumbnails. The main article is titled 'Sergey Glazyev: "The road to financial multipolarity will be long and rocky"'. Below the title, it says 'In an exclusive interview with The Cradle, Russia's top macroeconomics strategist criticizes Moscow's slow pace of financial reform and warns there will be no new global currency without Beijing.' The article is dated 'March 13, 2023' and is by 'Pope Exeche'. The main image shows a portrait of Sergey Glazyev in front of the Russian Central Bank building, with Russian ruble banknotes and coins scattered in the foreground.

Automatic Translation

Russian → English

Guessing about the reasons for the next collapse of the ruble is not necessary. The fact is that the Central Bank returned to the market as a financial regulator. When the seizure of foreign exchange reserves paralyzed the activities of the Central Bank in the foreign exchange market, the ruble immediately rose under the influence of a positive trade balance. This happened thanks to the decision of the President to restore the mandatory sale of foreign exchange earnings. As soon as the ruble strengthened, the Central Bank began to gradually cancel the mandatory sale and actually indulge in the export of capital, which amounted to about 250 billion dollars. last year. This is the main reason for the current collapse of the ruble exchange rate, which is a direct consequence of the return of the Central Bank to the regulation of the foreign exchange market in the interests of speculators and offshore oligarchs. This, in fact, is the real goal of the activities of the leadership of the Bank of Russia, and not the "targeting" of inflation, which is accelerated by periodic collapses of the ruble exchange rate

...1990s, leading to the total collapse of the country's economic system?

In Mar 2014, right after the Russian annexation of Crimea, Glazyev became one of the first people to be sanctioned by the US.

24/24

The screenshot shows a news article on the Insider website. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'INSIDER' and links for 'Newsletters', 'Login', and 'Subscribe'. Below that, a market summary shows 'US MARKETS CLOSED' with various indices: Dow Jones (+0.01%), Nasdaq (+0.74%), S&P 500 (+0.36%), META (+2.18%), TSLA (-0.25%), and BABA (+4.26%). The article title is 'Obama Just Announced Sanctions Against 7 Russian 'Cronies'' by Brett LoGiurato, dated Mar 17, 2014, 3:45 PM. The main image is a portrait of President Barack Obama. Below the image, the text reads: 'President Barack Obama on Monday signed an executive order authorizing sanctions on seven Russian officials, the day after a controversial referendum in which Crimea voted overwhelmingly to secede from Ukraine and join Russia.'

Support my work:

The banner features a blue background with white icons for Twitter, YouTube, and music. The name 'Pekka Kallioniemi' is written in large white text. To the right is a circular profile picture of Pekka Kallioniemi. Below the name is a coffee cup icon and the URL 'buymeacoffee.com/PKallioniemi'. At the bottom, there's a white box with the text: 'Pekka Kallioniemi Support me in creating daily vatnik soups! All donations will be spent on research and production of vatnik soup or in the creation of web portal (vatniksoup.com)... https://buymeacoffee.com/PKallioniemi'.

Past soups: vatniksoup.com

Related soups:

Revolution of Dignity:

The Twitter profile card shows a circular profile picture of Pekka Kallioniemi, his name 'Pekka Kallioniemi', and his handle '@P_Kallioniemi'. There is a 'Follow' button and a Twitter bird icon to the right.

In today's #vatniksoup and another edition of "You pronounced this nonsense, not me", I'll talk about an event called the Revolution of Dignity AKA Maidan Revolution. It was a wave of demonstrations in Ukraine that took place in 2013 and 2014.

1/24

9:29 AM · Mar 13, 2023

Read the full conversation on Twitter

2.7K Reply Copy link

Read 74 replies

"Genocide in Donbas":

Pekka Kallioniemi
@P_Kallioniemi · Follow

In today's #vatnik soup and another edition of "You pronounced this nonsense, not me". Today we're going to talk about the "genocide in Donbas" disinformation and propaganda trope, that's been debunked many times but just refuses to die in the social media sphere.

1/12

6:56 AM · Jan 8, 2023

Read the full conversation on Twitter

2.6K Reply Copy link

Read 71 replies

Alexander Dugin:

 Pekka Kallioniemi
@P_Kallioniemi · Follow

In today's #vatnik soup I'll introduce one of the main architects of 🇷🇺 geopolitics, Alexander Dugin. He's a far-right political philosopher, analyst & of course a fascist. His influence over Putin is disputed, but his books seem to be a blueprint for 🇷🇺's geopolitical strategy. 1/10

8:15 AM · Nov 29, 2022

 Read the full conversation on Twitter

 1.2K  Reply  Copy link

Read 73 replies

Dmitry Rogozin:

 Pekka Kallioniemi
@P_Kallioniemi · Follow

In today's #vatnik soup I'll introduce a Russian right-wing politician and a raging spaceman called Dmitry Rogozin (@DRogozin).

Rogozin has also been very active on Twitter, threatening people from Elon Musk to former NASA astronaut Scott Kelly (@StationCDRKelly).

1/14

3:49 PM · Dec 24, 2022

Read the full conversation on Twitter

600

Reply

Copy link

Read 43 replies

