In today's #vatniksoup, I'll introduce a Russo-Ukrainian businessman and politician, Oleg Tsaryov (@OlegTsarov). He's best-known for acting as a pro-Russian separatist officer in Donetsk, Ukraine, and revealing Yanukovich's plan to become the dictator of Ukraine.

1/19

Oleg was born in 1970 in Dnipropetrovsk (now Dnipro) in the Ukrainian SSR of the Soviet Union. He became an MP in the Ukrainian Verkhovna Rada in 2002, later joining Viktor Yanukovich's Party of Regions. He was re-elected again in 2006, in 2007, and in 2012.

2/19

When the 2013-2014 Revolution of Dignity got in full swing, Tsarev was one of the most fervent supporters of using violent against the protestors, whom he called "terrorists, bandits and extremists."

3/19

dispersal of the revolution. He called Maidan activists terrorists, bandits and extremists. And after the Maidan won, he became an adept of the project "Novorossiya" and in every way contributed to separatism in the Donbas. He repeatedly received kicks from angry activists.

In the end, Tsarev fled Ukraine. And now he is in Russia. And according to other information - in Crimea.

In 2014 he self-appointed himself as a presidential candidate for the 2014 election, after which he was expelled from the Party of Regions. Few days later, he traveled to Donetsk and offered to become a leader of the separatist "South-east movement".

Tsarev said he was ready to become the leader of the separatists and disrupt the presidential election

Tsarev said he was ready to lead the "South-Eastern Movement" / telegraf.com.ua

Presidential candidate Oleg Tsarev said he was ready to become the leader of the so-called "South-Eastern movement". He said this today at a press conference in Donetsk, OstroV reports.

"Today I am at a rally (near the building of the Donetsk Regional Council, seized by separatists - ed.) And at the council they asked to try to organize the South-East movement and act as a leader. I said I'd give it a try. We need to help people," Tsarev said.

He'd assured that the Donetsk separatists would disrupt the upcoming presidential election, promising to create a "central authority" in Donetsk. It seems that Tsaryov was abandoned by pretty much everyone & his popularity at the presidential election was practically zero.

Ukraine's Party of Regions expels presidential hopefuls Tigipko, Tsariov and Boiko

The political council of the Party of Regions has expelled Sergiy Tigipko, Oleh Tsariov and Yuriy Boiko from the party, the secretary of the presidium of the party's political council, MP Borys Kolesnikov, told reporters in Kyiv on Monday.

According to him, 80 participants of the meeting supported this decision, while four were against it.

At the same time, Kolesnikov said that there was no split in the Party of Regions.

"What split can there be, if 90% of the Congress participants supported Mykhailo Dobkin as the presidential candidate?" he said.

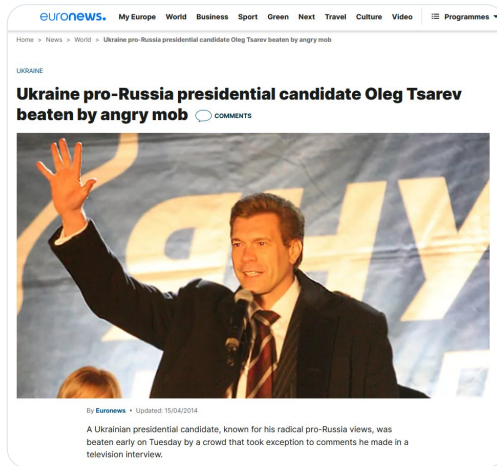

He also said that acting head would be temporarily in charge of the party organization in the city of Kyiv and branches in Kyiv, Rivne, Kirovohrad, Chernivtsi and Odesa regions.

As reported, Kolesnikov earlier said that representatives of the party apart from Mykhailo Dobkin who have nominated themselves to run for Ukraine's presidency might be kicked out of the party.

Four members of the Regions party Mykhailo Dobkin, Yuriy Boiko, Sergiy Tigipko and Oleh Tsariov decided to run for Ukraine's presidency.

He'd lost all support of his previous party, and he was also beaten up by a mob after a TV interview. He eventually withdrew his presidential candidacy.

Come May 2014, Oleg had become such a loved person in Ukraine that there was allegedly a bounty of 1 million USD set on his head. A month later he was stripped of his parliamentary immunity & was sanctioned for arrest for calls to overthrow the Ukrainian constitutional system.

In Jun 2014, he became Speaker of the "Unity Parliament" for the puppet states of DPR and LPR. Tsaryov called for the creation of Federal State of Novorossiya, a confederation that he terminated later on because it "did not comply with the Minsk II accords".

Russian media along with militants' officials claim that 'Novorossiya' was just a political project

Russian-backed militants have announced their self-proclaimed 'Novorossiya' (New Russia) political project has collapsed according to Russian media Gazeta.ru. The organisation's leader said the movement was frozen because its activities did not align with the Minsk ceasefire accords, an agreement aimed at de-escalating the conflict in east Ukraine.

Oleh Tsarev, a former Ukrainian MP and head of the 'Novorossiya' group said the concept of such a union failed because of the Ukrainian government influence in the cities of Odesa, Kharkiv and Dnipropetrovsk.

Aleksander Kofman, the minister of Foreign Affairs of so-called Donetsk People Republic said 'if citizens of Kharkiv, Dnipropetrovsk and Odesa think that the Donetsk People's Republic should come and free them from the Ukrainian junta, and they will do nothing – that's not fair. We cannot decide for them'.

The self-proclaimed confederation was established in May 2014, about one month after Russian proxy forces began taking over key government, military and media infrastructure in Ukraine's east. The 'Novorossiya' movement was not officially recognised internationally, even by Russia and was labelled as a 'terrorist organisation' by the Ukrainian government. Prior to its disintegration, the group had Subsequently, Tsaryov fled to Russia. After Russia's full-scale invasion in Ukraine began, Oleg claimed that "as promised, the denazification operation has begun." A little later he declared that he was "already in Ukraine" and that "Kyiv will be liberated from the Nazis".

Details: A few hours before Russia's attack on Ukraine, the traitor wrote on Telegram "about the inevitability of denazification of Ukraine" and that he would "do everything for this."

In the early morning hours of February 24, virtually simultaneously with Russia's attack on Ukraine, Tsarev wrote that "as promised, the denazification operation has begun." He also said that he was "already in Ukraine" and that "Kyiv will be liberated from the fascists."

On the evening of February 24, Tsarev told everyone that he had called his "Ukrainian wife" and that she had reproached him for "messaging around there for a long time, because they had to finish it in 6 hours."

In Mar 2022, RT published a propaganda video of Oleg delivering humanitarian aid in Ukrainian territory invaded by Russia.

In Mar 2022, Tsaryov called on the Oleksandr Vilkul, mayor of Kryvyi Rih, to surrender the city to Russian troops, saying that "his" Russian troops...

...are "nearby the city". Oleg claimed that Vilkul had always taken "pro-Russian stance" and that they "used to be fellow party members". Vilkul replied to Tsaryov "Fuck you, traitor, along with your masters!"

The head of Kryvyi Rih's military administration, Oleksandr Vilkul, has rejected a call by the traitor Oleh Tsarev to surrender the city to Russian troops.

Source: Vilkul on Facebook, Tsarev on Telegram

According to Tsarev: "Our [Russian] troops are now near Kryvyi Rih. I expect some consistency from the mayor of Kryvyi Rih, Yuriy Vilkul. Yuriy and Oleksandr Vilkul used to be my fellow party members and have always taken a pro-Russian stance.

Cooperating with the Russian army means preserving the city and the lives of Kryvyi Rih residents. I trust that the mayor of Kryvyi Rih [Yuriy Vilkul is the acting mayor] will make the right decision".

In Apr 2022, he declared that "this [Ukraine] has always been and will be Russian land and we are restoring sovereignty over this land." In Feb 2023, Russian political scientist, Sergei Markov, suggested that "Tsaryov would be a wonderful president of Ukraine."

3. Statement by Oleg Tsarev, Ukrainian politician, who was in Moscow these days. This person is a supporter of the formation of Novorossiya and is thought by West to be the new president of the Ukraine.

On Thursday, March 24, he announced in his Telegram channel Moscow's decision to create military-civilian administrations in the occupied territories, which will assume all the power of authority. He also urged to decide what will happen next with the Ukraine, and believes that "we must say that this has always been and will be Russian land and we are restoring sovereignty over this land."

"If we say this, it will be clear what flags to go there with, what legislation to apply, it will be clear to Russian soldiers and Russian volunteers what to do for. And it will be clear to NATO that we will not give this land away to anyone. And it will be clear to Ukrainians that if we came to this land, then we will not leave it," Tsarev said.

He urged Moscow to allow volunteers to participate in this military campaign. Right afterwards it was reported that the military registration and enlistment offices in the Chelyabinsk region began to officially help volunteers to go to the Ukraine. Thus, we can conclude that Tsarev passed off decisions which had already been taken.

4. Insiders in the Ukrainian Telegram channels who write about the Kremlin's ultimatum to the Ukraine, which it did not comply with, therefore it will "lose the south."

"We were given time to think, and if we continue to drag out the negotiations, the terms of the peace treaty will change. In particular, we were told that we will lose the south and Kharkiv, and Kyiv will be completely surrounded. That

Sergei Markov, political scientist: "Oleg Tsarev would be a wonderful president of Ukraine. Perhaps he will be it."

Oleg Tsarev, former deputy of the Ukrainian Rada: "Thank you, Sergey, for the high rating. But I believe that Ukraine is a part of Russia, temporarily and by misunderstanding separated from it. And there is only one President in Russia." <https://t.me/olegtsarov/5342>

In Mar 2023, Tsaryov a coup plan that was supposed to be done by Yanukovych and his Party of Regions, with the help of Putin. For some weird reason, this plan was revealed by Tsaryov.

Oleg Tsarev: Everything is not according to plan - both Russian and Western analysts did not calculate the current events in Ukraine

There were many scenarios, including the "separatism" not of Donbass, but of the Western Ukrainian regions

Олег Царев: Всё не по плану — и российские, и западные аналитики не просчитывали нынешних событий на Украине

Сценариев было много, включая «сепаратизм» не Донбасса, а западно-украинских областей

The plan was to do the same that Lukashenko has done in Belarus - rewrite the constitution which would allow Yanukovich to become a president indefinitely. This was then supposed to provoke Ukraine's western regions into separatism (instead of the people in east of Ukraine).14/19

“SP”: In general, it's fantastic - how many different variants of the future history of Ukraine could be. I heard a version that if in 2014 Yanukovich had shown firmness and the country would have gone, if not on a pro-Russian, then at least not on an anti-Russian path, not residents of Donbass, but Western Ukraine, for whom the dream of entering Europe overshadowed everything, would have become "separators".

- There were conversations about this much earlier. I will tell you something that no one has ever done before he didn't tell me. I was holding in my hands a document developed by Party analysts regions in which the scenario of Yanukovich's lifelong presidency was considered. It was obvious that by building friendly relations with the Russian Federation, achieving economic growth, raising the standard of living, all this can be done realistically. Two presidential terms, constitutional amendment, two more terms... And the only threat the implementation of these plans in life saw one thing: Western Ukraine will always undermine the situation on the territory of the whole country and will do everything to prevent such implement the scenario. And then a plan was drawn, according to which Tyahnybok, who received money, including from the Party of Regions cash register, would advocate separatism, for the separation of a number of western regions into an autonomous entity that does not support the central government. Well, the central government would have to "reluctantly" agree. So events could develop like this.

«СП»: Вообще это фантастика — сколько могло быть разных вариантов дальнейшей истории Украины. Слышал я версию, что если бы в 2014 году Янукович проявил твердость и страна бы пошла если не по проросийскому, то хотя бы не по антиросийскому пути, «сепарами» стали бы не жители Донбасса, а Западной Украины, для которых мечта о вхождении в Европу затмевала всё...

— Об этом разговоры шли значительно раньше. Расскажу вам то, чего никому раньше не рассказывал. Я держал в руках документ, разработанный аналитиками Партии регионов, в котором рассматривался сценарий пожизненного президентства Януковича. Было очевидно, что, выстраивая дружеские отношения с Российской Федерацией, добиваясь роста экономики, повышения уровня жизни, все это сделать реально. Два президентских срока, изменение Конституции, еще два срока... И единственная угроза воплощению этих планов в жизнь виделась одна: Западная Украина всегда будет расшатывать ситуацию на территории всей страны и сделает все, чтобы не дать такой сценарий реализовать. И тогда нарисовался план, согласно которому Тягнибок, получавший деньги в том числе и из кассы Партии регионов, стал бы выступать за сепаратизм, за отделение ряда западных областей в автономное образование, не поддерживающее центральную власть. Ну, а центральной власти пришлось бы «скрепя сердце» согласиться. Так что события могли развиваться и так.

They even planned Oleh Tyahnybok of the far-right Svoboda party for the role of running separatist movement in the west of Ukraine. This of course is a clear indication that Yanukovich and his Party of Regions were actually Russian agents, trying to make Ukraine into...

...a puppet state under Kremlin rule a'la Belarus. It's worth noting, that this was one of the many plans that Yanukovych had hatched with the Russians, but the others weren't documented. This basically proves that Ukraine was at hands of foreign actors and that Ukrainians..16/19

... had no other chance than to protest and defend their country. One could even say that Maidan Revolution saved Ukraine, as this way Russia could only seize Crimea and parts of the Donbas Oblast, which will soon join Ukraine again.

So Tsaryov basically proved the "CIA-funded coup d'etat" narrative to be a lie, thus undermining Russia's propaganda efforts. Oops.

In May 2022, Tsaryov was sentenced In Ukraine in absentia to 12 years in prison.

Tsaryov was sanctioned in 2014 by the EU for calling for the creation of Federal State of Novorossiya & in 2014 by the UK government because of his involvement in the Russo-Ukrainian War. Tsaryov has three children, and as is tradition, two of them allegedly study in the UK.19/19

In today's #vatniksoup and another edition of "You pronounced this nonsense, not me", I'll talk about an event called the Revolution of Dignity AKA Maidan Revolution. It was a wave of demonstrations in Ukraine that took place in 2013 and 2014.
