In today's Vatnik Soup, made together with chef invit  @Martinlaineolen, we discuss the extensive links between pedophile sex trafficker Jeffrey Epstein and Russian officials and intelligence operatives, and how Western politicians reinforced these links.

While MAGA influencers remain silent on Epstein, pro-Kremlin propagandists and bot farms have expectedly launched an anti-Ukraine online operation, spreading fake narratives that connect Ukraine, its politicians, and the late sex trafficker.

Russia's Matryoshka bots begin Epstein-themed disinfo campaign, focusing false claims against Ukraine and France

The Kremlin-linked bot network known as "Matryoshka" has launched a disinformation campaign following the release by the U.S. Justice Department of new documents in the case of Jeffrey Epstein. The campaign was identified by researchers from the Bot Blocker project (@antibot4navalny), who shared their findings with The Insider.

Social media posts presented in the guise of content from major Western media outlets included the false claims that:

- Ukrainian children allegedly became a key resource in Epstein's operations following the country's 2014 Revolution of Dignity. A fake video said Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky was aware of the situation and that he communicated with visitors to Epstein's island.
- In a video posing as a report from France 24, actress Catherine O'Hara, who died on Jan. 30, was said to have accused French President Emmanuel Macron of protecting a "lobby of perverts." In reality, the late actress made no such statements.

But the emails paint a very different picture: in reality, Epstein had very close connections with Russian officials and intelligence operatives, and even built bridges and arranged meetings between MAGA figures and the Kremlin.

Epstein built ties to Russians and sought to meet Putin, files show

Justice Department files show that Jeffrey Epstein sought help from a Russian official after claiming a woman from Moscow was blackmailing “powerful businessmen” in New York.

February 6, 2026 at 5:00 a.m. EST

Let's start with Epstein's visits to Russian intelligence agencies. In one of his Russian visa applications, Epstein listed “MOO Vympel” as the organization to be visited. Vympel is a special forces unit of the FSB/KGB, and MOO Vympel is its veterans' organization.

So far, this is the clearest documented link between Jeffrey Epstein & Russian intelligence, yet certainly not the only one. In Jul 2015, Epstein arranged a meeting between former Russian minister & FSB Academy graduate Sergey Belyakov & Peter Thiel, a key Trump sponsor.

In one email, Epstein asked Belyakov to look into a Russian woman he claimed was trying to blackmail powerful businessmen. The FSB Academy graduate replied he would need a few days to get information and soon delivered a profile on her.

Soon after, Epstein drafted a letter that appears to respond to the Russian woman in question. In it, he wrote, "I felt it necessary to contact some friends in FSB."

This suggests Epstein himself strongly believed Belyakov was FSB.

I've decided to help you. However I am very disappointed by the fact that you felt it necessary to threaten me. I think you should apologize to me. . you and I have been together a long time. so I know you must have been quite upset to do such an outrageous thing. . you should also know that I felt it necessary to contact some friends in FSB, and I though did not give them your name. They explained to me in no uncertain terms that especially now , when Russia is trying to bring in outside investors , as you know the economy sucks, and desperately investment that a person that would attempt to blackmail a us businessman would immediately become in the 21 century,what they terms . vrag naroda meant in the 20th they translated it for me as the enemy of the people, and would be dealt with extremely harshly , as it threatened the economies of the country. So I expect never ever to hear a threat from you again. . that being said , I think 50k per month for the next two years. and I will help you get a visa, is very generous. . if you decide to stay in moscow , its ok with me,

Another important contact, Russian UN ambassador Vitaly Churkin, was an extremely close friend of Epstein. The two met constantly for coffee and lunch. At one point, Churkin's son Maxim even began doing "confidential work" for Epstein.

8/23

Naturally, this relationship extended to Peter Thiel too: Epstein, Churkin, and the sweaty Palantir billionaire held regular meetings and lunches in 2015, 2016, and 2017.

In 2017, Churkin died. Epstein then sought to re-establish contact with Russia, offering Lavrov and Putin insight into Donald Trump. He attempted this via former Norwegian PM and diplomat Thorbjørn Jagland, and Jagland was happy to pass the message along.

When sputnik was announced , the West was caught flatfooted.

The same can now happen with Russia taking the lead in finance. Instead of competing with the west for nano tech, copying silicon valley, looking for start ups, playing catch up to Microsoft . apple google and the like, Russia can get out in front and leapfrog the global community by reinventing the financial system of the 21 st century,

Epstein wrote to MAGA strategist Steve Bannon that "Miro" urged a meeting with Slovak PM Robert Fico about "funding." "Miro" referred to Miroslav Lajčák, a Fico adviser who later left government after Epstein link revelations.

15/23

Epstein and "Miro" also discussed the Lavrov meeting directly.

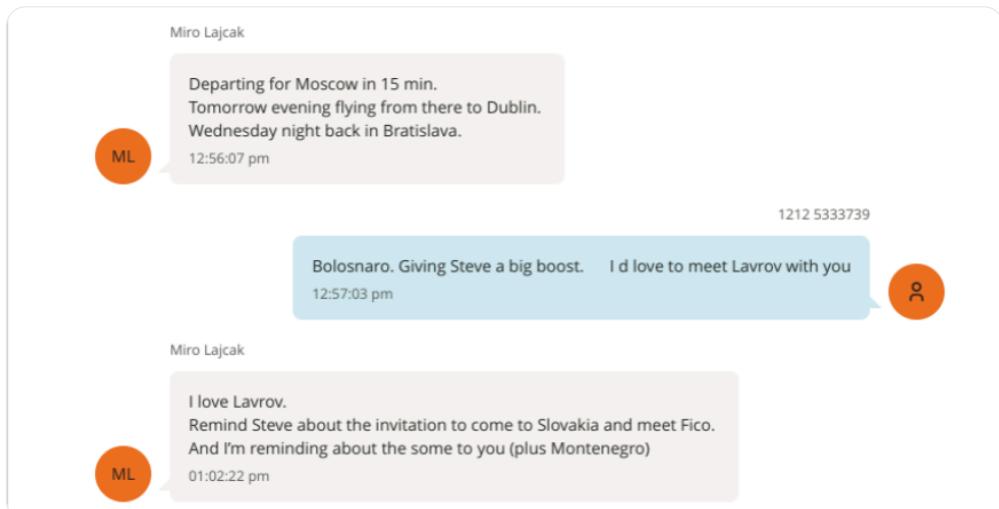

Epstein: "I'd like to meet Lavrov together."

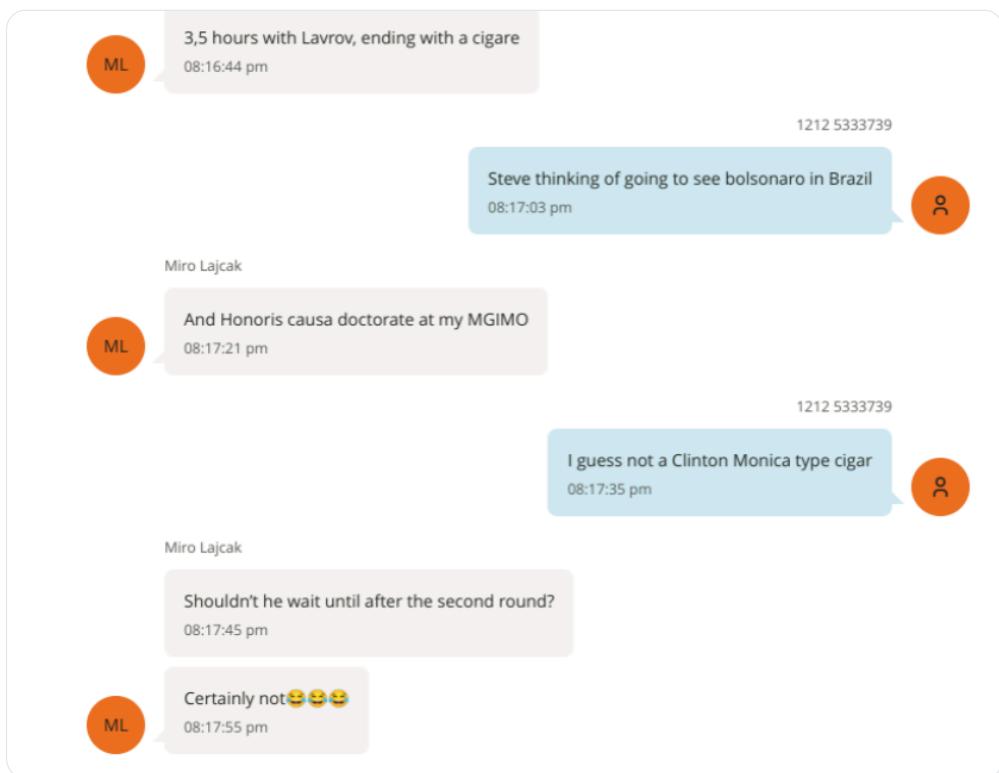

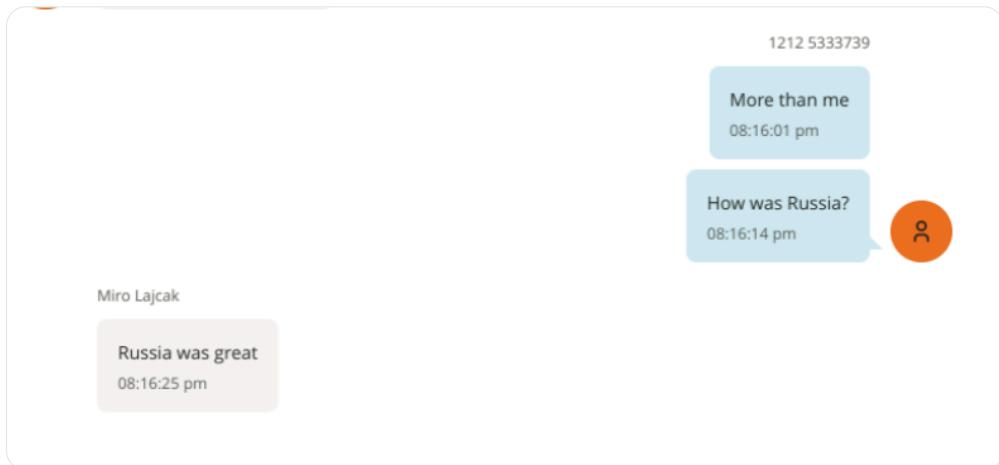

Miro: "I love Lavrov."

"Russia was great. 3.5 hours with Lavrov, ending with a cigar"

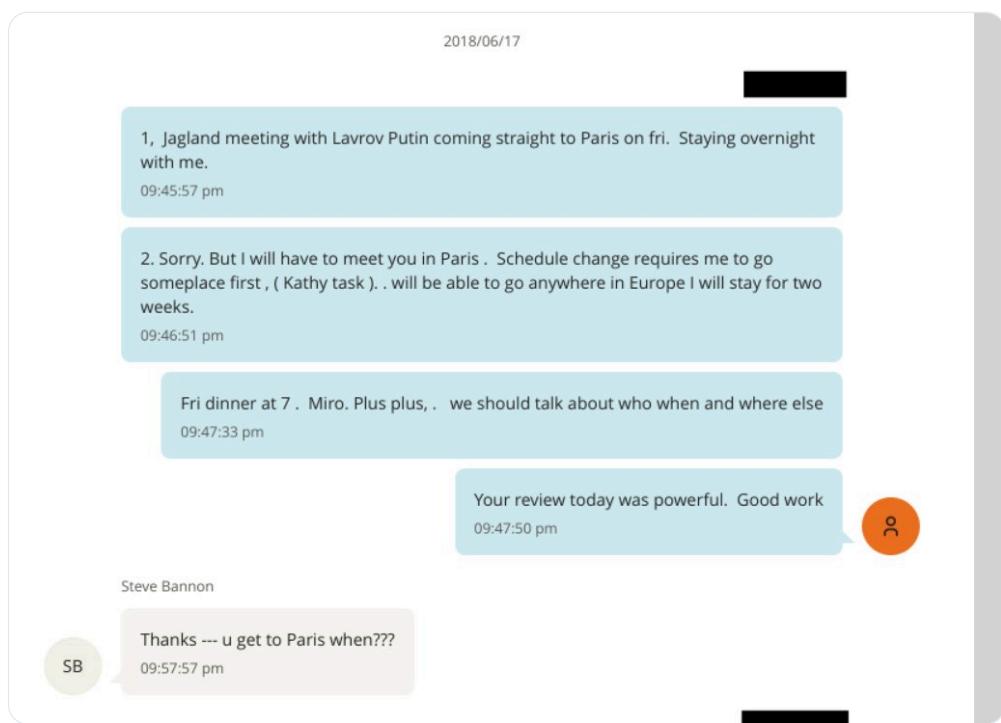

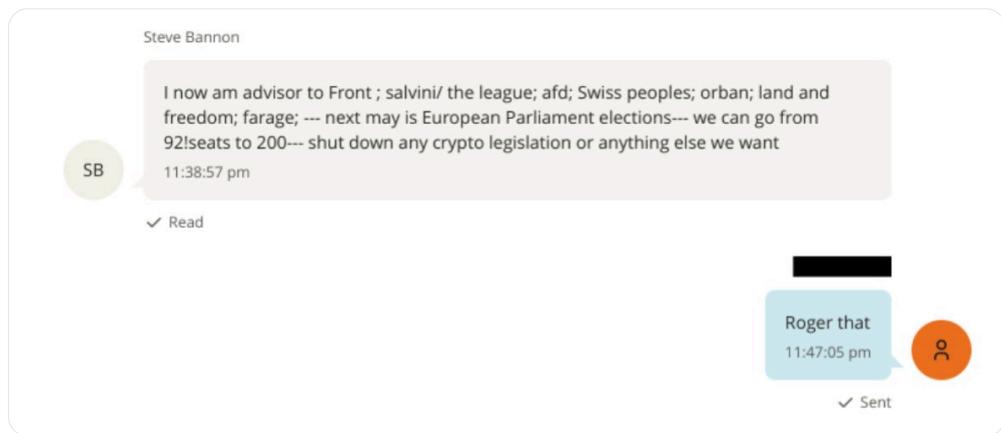

They sound so friendly!

Bannon boasted he advised much of the European far right, and even claimed he “brought down the Belgian government in 2018.” At the same time, Epstein kept him in the loop about the Russian side of the equation.

In 2018, Bannon remarked that it was "Epstein's guy" who helped arrange Putin's Vienna meeting, most likely referring to Austria's then chancellor Sebastian Kurz, former leader of the far right FPÖ.

And who does Kurz work for today? Peter Thiel.
