2) See that circled section? She says she's from Russia. Which is interesting because other sources say she's from Kazakhstan. But let's take a look at her X account and learn more. ↓

Passionate Patron of the Arts

Irina Mappin is an entrepreneur, publisher and patron of the arts. Originally from Russia, she grew up surrounded by artists and the arts which instilled a lifelong passion and deep commitment to encouraging and nurturing artists and promoting the arts.

Irina Mappin - Wiki Page

Irina Mappin has always enjoyed success, whether it is as a highly successful entrepreneur and business woman, as a well known publisher or as an art collector. Educated at one of the top universities in the United Kingdom, Irina is married to John Mappin and is the co-owner, with world renowned artist Ted Stourton, of Camelot Castle in Tintagel.

Irina Mappin is the founder of the Artists in Residence Programme which has given a number of young artists the chance to develop and hone their craft in an environment that is completely dedicated to art. Camelot Castle is not only home for Irina and John Mappin, but is a refuge, a retreat and fast becoming one of the most important centres for the development and nurture of the arts in the United Kingdom.

Living and working at Camelot Castle is the culmination of a life of passion, art and dedication. Artists who are chosen to live and work at Camelot Castle are given every opportunity to create in one of the most inspiring corners of the earth. Rich in myth and legend, Camelot Castle in Tintagel is the birthplace of King Arthur and the very beginning of the legend of the Round Table. Irina Mappin has ensured that artists are afforded the chance to learn and to create while being given important advice on how to become viable and self supporting.

3) There's Irina Mappin and John Mappin flanking Charlie Kirk and Candace Owens. Evidently, they have connections to Turning Point USA and the spinoff Turning Point UK. Yes, there is proof of that. We'll get to that. But first let's see who Irina follows ↓

Irina Mappin was born and grew up in Kazakhstan, where she heard about her learned ancestors, some of whom had held advisory and educational positions in the courts of the Tsars and in more recent eras.

Although she studied economics and political science at a UK university, her life took a different course and she is now wife to and business partner of John Mappin. John Mappin also hails from a dynasty, one that is well known to the British public as Mappin & Webb jewellers having been on the country's high streets for decades.

Irina and John Mappin co-own Camelot Castle Hotel in Cornwall with artist friend Ted Stourton. At Camelot, Irina has opportunity to support and perhaps influence a new generation of artists in much the same way as her ancestors had done in the Kazakhstan and Russia.

7) Here's a bit from John Mappin's website. She has a Russian name so is most likely Russian. Let's keep going. ↓ restoration and conservation of the natural world.

John Mappin and his wife Irina-Kudrenok Mappin are the co-founders and originators of the global reforestation initiative that became the conceptual backbone and inception point of the current form of The Dutch Green Business, a publicly quoted main market listing on the Amsterdam exchange Euronext.

As principal shareholder of DGB and Chairman of the Guardianship Foundation of DGB John Mappin is dedicated to bringing his experience of over 37 years of entrepreneurship and his family's resources to help DGB flourish in its new mission.

John Mappin, the wealthy owner of a castle / hotel in Cornwall, is in the news again for his support of the 'Qanon' conspiracy (a particularly toxic conspiracy theory which helped stoke the Capitol Hill riot this month). Mappin, also connected to the pro-Trump and pro-Brexit group Turning Point, raised a Q flag over his castle, which must have thrilled his guests. He's a good example of 'conspirituallity' — the overlap of conspiracy culture and New Age magical thinking, as I discovered when I unwittingly visited his castle, Camelot, back in 2015....

9) Here is an article from 2020 about John Mappin. Let's see more. ↓

10) This is from the article. So Mappin clearly has ties to the American far right. So Diana Panchenko has a pretty valuable asset here in terms of access. Fascinating. Pretty impressive for an account launched a month ago. Let's see more. ↓

A key supporter of Nigel Farage and Donald Trump has provoked ridicule after using his Cornish castle to fly the flag of a prominent conspiracy theory identified by the FBI as inspiring rightwing violence.

John Mappin, who owns Camelot Castle at Tintagel, used the Victorian hotel to promote a rightwing hoax known as QAnon, which the US intelligence agency has said is a motivator for “domestic extremists” who want to carry out violence in the US.

11) So he's the guy behind Turning Point UK. Panchenko now has access to both the American and British far right. It will remain to be seen what messages Panchenko most wants distributed to them.

Mappin is a central figure behind Turning Point UK, the British arm of the pro-Trump American student organisation which has been endorsed by a number of Conservative politicians, including the home secretary, Priti Patel, and Jacob Rees-Mogg, as well as Farage, the leader of the Brexit party.

Last June, Mappin was seen at a lavish Turning Point UK fundraising dinner, sitting opposite Farage.
