Zelensky hastily fled Kiev, Russian State Duma Speaker claims

"He fled to Lvov with his entourage, where he and his assistance were provided with accommodation," the speaker said

MOSCOW, February 26. /TASS/. Ukrainian President Vladimir Zelensky hastily fled Kiev on Friday and is currently in Lvov with his entourage, Russian State Duma Speaker Vyacheslav Volodin stated in his Telegram channel Saturday.

"Zelensky hastily fled Kiev. He was not in the Ukrainian capital yesterday already. He fled to Lvov with his entourage, where he and his assistance were provided with accommodation," the speaker said, adding that all videos published in the social media were recorded in advance.

"The information comes from Verkhovna Rada lawmakers who tried to meet with [Zelensky] in Kiev. They were invited to Lvov for a meeting. Zelensky is currently under protection of neo-Nazis," he added.

Am 1. Tag der Invasion attackierte die  Marine die strategisch wichtige Schlangeninsel. Der  Kreuzer Moskwa nahm Kontakt zu den ukrainischen Verteidigern auf & forderte sie auf, sich zu ergeben. Diese antworteten mit dem legendären „Russisches Kriegsschiff, fick dich“.

Obwohl die Russen die Insel eroberten, rächten sich die Ukrainer später: Sie eroberten die Insel zurück und die Moskwa, das Flaggschiff der russischen Schwarzmeerflotte, wurde auf den Meeresgrund geschickt, was mit einer offiziellen Briefmarke gefeiert wurde.

The heavy losses of an elite Russian regiment in Ukraine

Some of the 39 Russian soldiers from the 331st regiment who are known to have died

In any war, there are units that distinguish themselves and others that become symbolic of failure. The 331st Guards Parachute Regiment had high hopes of being the first, but now represents the disintegration of Russia's plan for a quick war.

If the Russian assault went as planned, Antonov could be used to land thousands of additional airborne soldiers and their light armored vehicles by cargo plane, allowing Russian troops to begin tightening the noose around the Ukrainian capital even before Russian mechanized armies fought their way in.

Battle for Hostomel (the Battle of Antonov Airport). On February 24 and 25, Russia and Ukraine fought a ferocious battle for Antonov Airport in Hostomel, just ten kilometers northwest of Kyiv. Russia conducted a large air assault to take control of the airfield, but Ukrainian forces held throughout February 24. According to Ukrainian sources, during the battle, eighteen IL-76 Cargo aircraft took off from Pskov Airport in Russia and were heading to Antonov Airport, likely loaded with either paratroopers or heavy equipment to support the paratroopers. We surmise the airlifted force was designed to help spearhead the Russian attack on Kyiv. The Ukrainian defense of the airfield on February 24 slowed the advance on Kyiv, possibly preventing a rapid capture of the capital. The Russians eventually took control of the airfield on February 25, but reporting indicated that the airfield was heavily damaged and nonoperational.

Ukrainian drone brigade claims to have stopped 40-mile column of Russian tanks - video

One week into its invasion of Ukraine, Russia massed a 40-mile mechanised column in order to mount an overwhelming attack on Kyiv from the north.

But the convoy of armoured vehicles and supply trucks ground to a halt within days, and the offensive failed, in significant part because of a series of night ambushes carried out by a team of 30 Ukrainian special forces and drone operators on quad bikes, according to a Ukrainian commander.

Children's and maternity hospital hit by Russian bombs, say Ukraine authorities - video

Russian bombs have “completely destroyed” a children’s and maternity hospital in Mariupol, Ukrainian authorities have said, as shelling again halted mass evacuations from several cities, including the devastated southern port where conditions are described as “apocalyptic”.

Ukrainian officials now believe that at least 25,000 people were killed in the fighting in Mariupol, and that 5,000-7,000 of them died under the rubble after their homes were bombed. Mariupol had a pre-war population of nearly 500,000.

Witnesses in Mariupol have told the BBC that they have seen the Russian authorities removing bodies from the rubble of destroyed buildings in the city over recent months and taking them away for burial.

Following is a chronology of some of the main drone strikes on Russian oil refineries and infrastructure this year.

June 18 - A drone attack set ablaze oil storage sites in Russia's southern Rostov region.

June 14 - Debris from a downed drone damaged an unused reservoir at a fuel depot in Russia's Voronezh region.

June 6 - A fire was extinguished at the Novoshakhtinsk oil refinery in Russia's Rostov region which had been attacked by a drone.

May 20 - Slavyansk oil refinery was attacked by a drone.

May 18 - The Importpischeprom oil products terminal at Russia's Black Sea port of Novorossiisk resumed fuel loadings after suspending operations following a drone attack a day earlier, according to industry sources and LSEG data.

May 17 - Tuapse oil refinery on the Black Sea was attacked by drones for at least the second time this year.

May 12 - Volgograd oil refinery, which has a production capacity of some 300,000 barrels per day (bpd), caught fire following a drone strike.

May 10 - A drone attacked the Pervyi Zavod refinery in Russia's Kaluga region, following an earlier attack on March 15.

May 9 - Gazprom Neftekhim Salavat oil processing, petrochemical and fertiliser complex in the Bashkortostan region stopped its catalytic cracker after being attacked by a drone. The Salavat complex refinery runs were 130,000 bpd in 2023.

April 1 - A drone struck Russia's Taneco refinery. In 2023, it processed 340,600 bpd of crude oil, the third largest volume among Russian refineries after Omsk and Kirishi.

March 23 - A fire broke out at the Kuibyshev refinery after a Ukrainian drone attacked it. In 2023, it processed 73,700 bpd of oil.

March 18 - The Slavyansk refinery caught fire after a drone attack. It has a capacity of around 100,000 barrels per day.

March 16 - The Syzran oil refinery, controlled by Rosneft (ROSN.MM) ↗, burned for hours before the fire was brought under control after a strike by Ukrainian drones. The refinery has a production capacity of 170,000 bpd, but its actual runs have been lower. In 2023 it processed about 100,000 bpd.

March 15 - An oil refinery in the Kaluga region south of Moscow was attacked with drones, causing damage. Its primary processing unit's capacity is 1.2 million tons per year - roughly 24,000 barrels per day.

March 13 - The Novoshakhtinsk oil refinery, in Russia's southern Rostov region, suspended operations after downed drones crashed onto the site, but resumed operations later in the day. Oil processing at the refinery in 2023 averaged around 96,000 barrels per day.

March 13 - The Ryazan oil refinery was set ablaze after a drone attack. It's capacity stands at around 317,000 bpd.

March 12 - A drone was destroyed on the outskirts of Kirishi, home to Surgutneftegaz's (SNGS.MM) ↗ Kirishinefteorgsintez \(KINEF\) refinery. The Kirishi complex is one of the top two refineries in Russia. It refines about 355,000 bpd of Russian crude.

March 12 - A fire broke out at NORSI, Russia's fourth largest refinery, after a drone attack. NORSI refines about 317,000 bpd of Russian crude a year. Lukoil also said in January that it had halted a unit at its refinery due to an unspecified incident.

Feb. 9 - A fire broke out at the Ilsky refinery in Russia's southern Krasnodar region and was extinguished in about two hours. Its refining capacity is 6.6 million metric tons of crude oil per year, equating to 132,000 bpd.

Jan. 26 - The Tuapse oil refinery in southern Russia halted oil processing and output following a fire. The Tuapse plant's capacity is 240,000 barrels per day.

Jan. 21 - Ust-Luga Complex was forced to suspend some operations at the huge Baltic Sea fuel export terminal at Ust-Luga as well as "technological processes" at a nearby fuel-producing complex due to a fire, started by what Ukrainian media said was a drone attack. In 2023 the Ust-Luga complex processed 7 million tons of gas condensate (156,000 bpd).

Day three of the Ukrainian special military operation in Russia. What we know:

- Ukrainian forces are in control of all or most of the city of Sudzha, reached the outskirts of Korenevo, and overnight pushed north around Malaya Loknya, as per Russian military bloggers and analysts.
- Ukraine's General Staff maintains silence about the offensive and its goals
- Ukrainian soldiers post videos of dozens, maybe hundreds, of Russian POWs who surrendered in Kursk
- Documented losses inside Russia include several IFVs and APCs on the Ukrainian side, two tanks and two-three helicopters on the Russian side.
- Is it a raid, or an attempt to hold and trade territory? Time will tell.

Auch Einzelpersonen haben Heldentaten vollbracht, zB Vitaly Skakun, der sein Leben opferte, als er eine Brücke sprengte, bevor die Russen sie überqueren konnten. Oder die Hinrichtung und die ikonischen letzten Worte von Oleksandr Matsievskyi kurz vor seiner Ermordung.

Wir sollten auch die Entschlossenheit der 🇺🇦 Zivilbevölkerung nicht vergessen, die ständig von 🇷🇺 Raketen & iranischen Drohnen bombardiert wird. Viele haben ihr Zuhause verloren, helfen ihrem Land aber auf jede erdenkliche Weise, zB Produktion von Drohnen oder Spenden.

Ukrainian drone brigade claims to have stopped 40-mile column of Russian tanks - video

One week into its invasion of Ukraine, Russia massed a 40-mile mechanised column in order to mount an overwhelming attack on Kyiv from the north.

But the convoy of armoured vehicles and supply trucks ground to a halt within days, and the offensive failed, in significant part because of a series of night ambushes carried out by a team of 30 Ukrainian special forces and drone operators on quad bikes, according to a Ukrainian commander.

Auch normale Ukrainer haben den Invasoren getrotzt, wie die Oma, die einem 🇷🇺 Soldaten Sonnenblumenkerne schenkte & ihm sagte: „Wenn du hier stirbst, wächst wenigstens die Sonnenblume“, oder die Zivilisten, die die Russen daran hinderten in die Stadt Sumy einzumarschieren.

Die Ukraine war bei ihren Operationen sehr erfolgreich & die Ukrainer bewiesen bei der Verteidigung des Landes gegen die 🇷🇺 Invasoren enormen Heldenmut. Sicher wäre ihr Erfolg noch größer, wenn sich die Verbündeten im Westen nicht so sehr wegen „Eskalation“ sorgen würden.
