Russia's MH17 web of lies looks set to unravel in court

RT filmmaker about flight MH 17: The investigation was carried out by locals

13 October 2015, 20:44

The director of the documentary films of the TV channel RT MH 17: information for reflection and MH 17: the year of silence - Yana Yerlashova, twice visited the crash site of the Malaysian Boeing in the east of Ukraine, spoke about her participation in the investigation of the circumstances of the disaster.

Reuters,

TV channel RT shot about the plane crash near Donetsk two films. One of them helped the Dutch investigation in the discovery of the wreckage of the liner, following flight MH 17. Talking about the filming process, the director Yana Yerlashova noted that the situation with the wreckage of the aircraft was quite strange initially.

Schon vor Bonanza Media unterstützte Van der Werff seit langem die von Russland unterstützten Separatisten in der Donbass. Er war 2015 mehrfach in Staatsmedien & separatistischen Medien zu sehen, wo er Propaganda über den Abschuss des Flugzeugs verbreitete.

Previous Cooperation with Pro-Russian Forces in the Donbas

Before Bonanza Media was created, Max van der Werff had already contacted the Russian-backed separatist authorities in eastern Ukraine trying to help craft a narrative of their lack of culpability in the downing of MH17. In 2016, a leak appeared online from Tatyana Egorova, a staff member of the so-called Donetsk People's Republic's (DNR's) Ministry of Information.

The Egorova Leaks include the entire inbox of the DNR official's Mail.ru account, through which she conducted official "government" business (as is typical through Russia and its separatist "republics"). The leaked emails include a number of correspondences with Max van der Werff in which he volunteers advice on public messaging around the MH17 downing, and requests direct access to materials to help him with his work. Eventually, Van der Werff requests (and receives) access to visit and work in the "DNR", after which he sends a scan of his passport to Egorova.

Hello Tatjana,

After losing one full week, let me explain again what is necessary to prove the official Dutch investigation uses false evidence. Please look again at the video and help me filter all the nonsense and lies!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oIQNpTxSnTo>

Photo 1) & 1a) Please let me inspect Volvo + red trailer.

Yellow sign with phone number is Photoshop. I need to look and take photos to prove.

Who was the owner of Volvo on 17JUL2014?

Who are the drivers of the truck if it was used 17JUL2014 and later?

Photo 2) 2a) 2b) & 2c) Zuhres video - Zuhres 2, Dom 31, Kv 26. There the video was made.

What is the name of the person who lived there 17JUL2014?

Is it true he died 2 months ago?

Is it true he was alcoholic and many people used his apartment?

Was this person able to make 7s video and upload to youtube?

Can his sister who repairs the flat give more information?

According to Western journalist the Volvo/Traile/Buk combination drove in less than 90 minutes this entire route from point photo 1) to photo 3)

Impossible with carg 32.4Ton on this road H21

Please let us use Volvo/Trailer with 32.4Ton load and film while driving this route to show it is always more than 2 hours needed.

I found another red Faymonville trailer. Photo DAF1 & DAF2. Maybe this combination is an alternative if Volvo cannot be used. License plate visible on photo. It will be easy to contact the owner via MinTrans <http://donmintrans.ru/>

COMING TUESDAY is my last day in Donbass.

Thank you for your prompt reply,

Bonanza konzentriert sich auf MH17. Sie liefern Erzählungen, die sich stark gegen die offizielle Untersuchung richten die zum Schluss kam, dass 2 Russen (darunter Igor Girkin) & ein 🇺🇦 Separatist für den Abschuss des Flugzeugs & den Tod von 298 Menschen verantwortlich waren

Why?

- Because 5 years on the official investigation is still intransperant, many questions remain unanswered and there are quite a few reasons to doubt the official version of events.
- We are going to do a lot of fact-checking on the ground, travel places, do expertise. That costs quite a bit of money.
- The sum we are asking here is just to get us started as soon as possible. We will collect a lot of important data and are planning to do a series of investigative films on the case.

A little bit about ourselves

Yana Yerlashova - Russian documentary filmmaker. Made 2 films on MH17, found important plane debris and made sure the Dutch Safety Board got them. The debris never made it to the final report. Thinks the official investigation is not done by the books and thus questionable. Has exclusive materials on the case that feed her doubts. Yana met Max while working on her first MH17 film. Since then they stayed in touch and now teamed up for a new MH17 investigation.

Max van der Werff - Independent Dutch researcher. His investigations led to the Dutch state conviction for torturing civilians in the Indonesian war for independence.

In the last 5 years spent more than 2.500 hours studying the MH17 air crash. Was interviewed by the Joint Investigation Team. Has strong doubts about the official version of events.

Since Malaysian airliner MH17 was shot down over Ukraine in 2014 - Max spent more than 2.500 hours studying the case. Went to the crash area twice and was interviewed by the Joint Investigation Team. He has strong doubts about the official version of events.

Yana met Max while working on her first MH17 film. Since then they stayed in touch and now teamed up for a new MH17 investigation.

Das Duo reiste zwischen Malaysia, Russland, der Ostukraine und den Niederlanden hin und her, hielt Pressekonferenzen ab, organisierte Veranstaltungen und produzierte eine Reihe von Dokumentarfilmen, in denen die Ukraine für den Abschuss verantwortlich gemacht wurde.

The project raised just over $23,000 in 18 days from 67 anonymous donors, with most of the funding coming – according to Van der Werff and Yerlashova – from Dutch donors. The Bonanza Media Twitter account even posted a jab at would-be Russian donors – complaining halfway through the campaign that no Russian money had been pledged.

Over the following year, Bonanza Media managed to put this modest budget (augmented, in the founders' own words, by personal financial contributions that made up 70% of the total budget) to a surprisingly elastic use: the team crisscrossed between Malaysia (including an interview with then Malaysian Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad), Russia, Russian-occupied eastern Ukraine, and the Netherlands; produced a series of documentaries showcasing alleged witnesses of a Ukrainian fighter jet near MH17; hosted and attended several press conferences and events in the Netherlands, the U.K. and Malaysia; and commissioned a study from a Malaysian cybersecurity expert alleging manipulation of some of the audio intercepts used as evidence in the MH17 investigation.

Aber dieser „unabhängige Journalismus“ hat eine dunkle, zynische Seite: Während sie ihre Propaganda produzierten, koordinierte Jerlashova das Projekt und ihre Aktivitäten zusammen mit hochrangigen Offizieren des russischen Geheimdienstes GRU.

Evidence of Coordination with the GRU

No later than the summer of 2019, when Bonanza Media had completed its documentary and began showcasing it at public events, Yana Yerlashova was already coordinating the project's activity with senior officers from the GRU. Emails and phone records obtained by us indicate that by August 2019, Col. Sergey Chebanov – a graduate of Russia's Military Intelligence Academy with a roster of international diplomatic postings under his belt – was receiving regular updates about Bonanza's plans and upcoming events. During most of the phone calls with Yerlashova, cell-tower data shows, he was based at the GRU headquarters at Khoroshevskoe Shosse 76B in Moscow. For his clandestine communication with the Bonanza Media founder and CEO, he had bought a burner phone which he registered in the name of a non-existent elderly Georgian woman – standard trade-craft for GRU spies who did not want their calls to be traceable to them.

Jerlashowa schickte Material ihres Filmes & anderer Inhalte von Bonanza Media an GRU-Oberst Sergej Tschebanow und bat oft um Kommentare. In einer E-Mail bat sie um Bestätigung für den Entwurf eines Teasers für die öffentliche Vorführung des Doku-films von Bonanza Media.

MH17: Trial By Media Gone Wrong

By Eric van de Beek

The MH17 wreckage was still burning when the Ukrainian secret service convinced western audiences that rebels had brought down the plane. However several persons that for years have been incriminated in the media are not suspected by the Dutch Public Prosecutor and are not standing trial.

Also, and this was something not mentioned by Ferdinandusse: Bezler's phone call about the downing of a plane was not about MH17. It was about the rebels having hit a Ukrainian military aircraft the day before, on 16 July, near Enakievo/Yenakieve. The SBU had antedated the audio segment to make it look as if it was about MH17. And Bellingcat whitewashed this forgery with a usual 'highly-likely' long read suggesting Bezler group didn't down any fighter-jets on the 16th.

So five years after the crash Bellingcat kept promoting the narrative that Bezler played an important role in the downing of MH17. As we now know, the Dutch Prosecutor did not side with this conclusion.

In another phone intercept published by SBU, one week later, a sub-ordinate informs Bezler that a 'birdie' is flying towards him. Bezler then instructs him to report this message 'upwards'. The SBU presented the intercept as evidence Bezler had coordinated the downing of the civilian airliner. This exegesis was subsequently promoted by the open source investigators of Bellingcat.

Oreon's interlocutor Delfin isn't standing trial either. Although the Public Prosecutor is convinced Delfin was involved in the removal of the Buk-TELAR that downed MH17 "there is no evidence" Delfin "played a relevant role before and during the commission of the offence," Ferdinandusse declared.

Western media were proven to have formed public opinion on false SBU and Bellingcat charges. But no lessons were learned. Bellingcat recently presented a report on yet another MH17 suspect. And the mass media eagerly copy-pasted 'the news'. Again.

Also, and this was something not mentioned by Ferdinandusse: Bezler's phone call about the downing of a plane was not about MH17. It was about the rebels having hit a Ukrainian military aircraft the day before, on 16 June, near Enakievo/Yenakieve. The SBU had anti-dated the audio segment to make it look as if it was about MH17. And Bellingcat whitewashed this forgery by accusing Bezler of manipulation and by stating that hitting the plane, which eventually led to an emergency landing, did not count as an attempted downing.

In another phone intercept published by SBU a month later, a sub-ordinate informs Bezler that a 'birdie' is flying towards him. Bezler then instructs him to report this message 'upwards'. Bellingcat suggested the interaction between these two men had probably facilitated the spotting of MH17 as an enemy aircraft.

Oreon's interlocutor Delfin isn't standing trial either. Although the Public Prosecutor is convinced Delfin was involved in the removal of the Buk-TELAR that downed MH17 "there is no evidence" Delfin "played a relevant role before and during the commission of the offence," Ferdinandusse declared.

These are the minimum questions that the FSB guys will ask. I can't bring journalists here just like that, on my own initiative. If I try it, they'll be detained right at the border. We must position it all to the FSB and the AP (Russia's Presidential Administration) in such a way that they should see what's in it for them"*

Пятница, 10 января 2020, 15:52 +03:00 от андрей андрей <[REDACTED]>:

It appears from this exchange that GRU's Andrey Ilchenko had requested Anna Soroka – who seems to be his trusted political contact in the LNR – to arrange for the Bonanza Media team to be allowed to enter into and film in the separatist-controlled Donbas region. She replies that she needs clearance from both FSB and the Kremlin. As we have reported earlier, after an initial scuffle between the FSB and GRU for political and economic control over the two Russian-backed separatist territories in eastern Ukraine (LNR and DNR), by the end of 2014 the FSB had gotten the upper hand. This might explain the need for the GRU to use its remaining local "LNR" loyalists – of whom Anna Soroka appears to be a high-ranking one – for assistance in special GRU operations ("LNR" borders Russia and is a transit point into "DNR" where MH17 was shot down, and where the Bonanza Team presumably needed to travel to.)

Diese Tatsache widerlegt erneut die Lüge des Kremls, dass die LNR & DVR „unabhängige Staaten“ seien, die von prominenten Vatniks so stark vertreten wird. Wie dem auch sei, das Bonanza-Team reiste 2020 in die Marionettenstaaten & bat die Menschen unterwegs auch um Geld.

Yet none of such fighter jets show up on the Russian radar images.

Fazit: Bonanza Media ist ein interessantes Beispiel dafür, wie „unabhängiger Journalismus“ von russischen Geheimdiensten genutzt wird, um das genaue Gegenteil, nämlich die Propaganda des Kremls, zu fördern.
