Diese #vatniksoup stellt einen amerikanischen Politikberater & Lobbyisten vor, Roger Stone (@RogerJStoneJr). Er ist für seine Arbeit als Berater von Donald Trump & angeblichen Verbindungen zu Julian Assange & dem 🇷🇺 GRU im Zusammenhang mit den geleakten DNC-E-Mails bekannt.

Stone ist seit langem in der US-Politik. Er begann bereits 1972 mit seinen schmutzigen Tricks, als er unter dem Namen einer trotzkistischen Jugendgruppe Geld an Nixons Konkurrenten spendete und dies den lokalen Nachrichten mitteilte.

1977 gewann er den Vorsitz der Jungen Republikaner mit Paul Manafort als Wahlkampfleiter. 1980 gründeten Stone & Manafort zusammen mit ihrem Partner Charlie Black eine Lobbying-Firma namens BMS. Die Firma vertrat praktisch jeden der Geld hatte, einschließlich Zaires...

The Firehose of Falsehood: the Russian style of propaganda for an age of information abundance.

- High volume and multi-channel approach
- Shameless in its willingness to broadcast lies
- No commitment to, or requirement for consistency
- Rapid, continuous and repetitive messaging
- Point is not to persuade but to confuse and overwhelm
- Assumes a low trust environment and lowers it further
- Number of arguments matters more than their quality
- Drown out competing messages through sheer volume

Roger verließ seine Position als Trumps Wahlkampfberater offiziell 2015, aber er arbeitete angeblich noch 2016 mit Julian Assange zusammen, um Hillary Clinton zu diskreditieren. 2020 enthüllten entsiegelte Durchsuchungsbefehle Kontakte zwischen den beiden & dass Stone...

Stone's assistant, interviewed voluntarily by former special counsel Robert Mueller's investigators, said that, as part of his work for Stone, he bought "a couple hundred fake Facebook accounts" and that bloggers working for Stone sought to build what looked like real Facebook accounts to push information about the 2016 Russian hack of the Democrats, a search warrant unsealed on Tuesday stated.

In 2016, Stone had wanted to push WikiLeaks content online that could help then-candidate Donald Trump, including content from stolen emails from accounts belonging to John Podesta, the then-campaign chairman of Trump's rival Hillary Clinton, the warrant alleged. The warrant that mentioned the fake accounts sought data from Facebook for three accounts, two of which were registered to the handle "rogerstone."

At least one of the suspected Stone accounts was used from October 2016 to March 2017 to buy advertisements to push stories related to Russia and WikiLeaks, according to the warrant. Some social media messages from the accounts rebutted that the Russians were behind the online pseudonym Guccifer 2.0, which the US intelligence community has said was operated by Russian intelligence to disseminate hacked materials aimed at damaging Clinton's campaign.

The ads allegedly purchased shared messages on Facebook such as: "Roger Stone talked about WikiLeaks, Donald Trump, ..." and "Stone Rebutts Charge of Russian Collusion" and "ROGER STONE - NO consensus that Guccifer 2.0 is a ..."

Stone said in a statement Tuesday that the newly released documents showed "baseless over-reach of the Mueller witch hunt" and exonerated him from any accusations of "Russian collusion, Wikileaks collaboration and the receipt and dissemination of stolen e-mails." He has not yet begun serving his sentence of 40 months in prison and has been publicly advocating for a pardon from Trump.

Wenige Monate vor dem Bekanntwerden der Podesta-E-Mails twitterte er: „Vertraut mir, die Podestas werden bald weg sein“.

Im Jan 2019 wurde Roger verhaftet & wegen Zeugenbeeinflussung, Behinderung eines amtlichen Verfahrens & 5 Fällen von falschen Angaben angeklagt.

Einmal sagte er einem Zeugen, er solle sich „auf den Tod vorbereiten“. Im Nov 2019 wurde er in allen 7 Anklagepunkten schuldig gesprochen & zu 40 Monaten Haft verurteilt. Tage bevor er ins Gefängnis musste, wurde seine Strafe umgewandelt & schließlich von Trump begnadigt.

'Prepare to die' Trump adviser Stone texted witness, trial jury hears

By Sarah N. Lynch

3 MIN READ

WASHINGTON, Nov 7 (Reuters) - Prosecutors on Thursday unveiled threatening text messages by U.S. President Donald Trump's adviser Roger Stone to radio host Randy Credico in which Stone urged Credico not to testify about their communications over Stone's efforts in 2016 to learn when WikiLeaks might release more damaging emails about Trump's rival Hillary Clinton.

"Prepare to die ..." Stone wrote in one profanity-laced text to Credico. "You are a rat."

In text messages, shown as exhibits during Stone's criminal trial in federal court in Washington, Credico confronted Stone about his September 2017 testimony to the House of Representatives Intelligence Committee.

Stone testified he had a back channel to WikiLeaks website founder Julian Assange, who alerted him in the summer of 2016 that more damning emails about Clinton would be released.

Stone identified Credico, who had interviewed Assange on his radio show, as the secret source of his intelligence in a subsequent letter to the committee.

Nach seinen Reden auf Demos sammelte Stone Geld für seine Anwalts- und Arztrechnungen. Weitere namhafte Redner auf der Tour waren Michael Flynn, Alex Jones und Robert F. Kennedy Jr.

After his speech, Roger Stone remained near the stage to pose for pictures with attendees. On either side of him were two people holding open large, clear garbage bags who collected cash donations toward Stone's legal and medical bills.

Im April 2021 reichte das US-Justizministerium eine Zivilklage gegen Roger Stone und seine Frau ein wegen angeblich nicht gezahlter Bundessteuern in Höhe von rund 2 Millionen EUR. Es ist unklar, ob Stone auf der ReAwaken America Tour Geld für diese Klage gesammelt hat.
